WILLKIE CALLS ON SOUTH TO END TRADITION

Texans Told It's Time To Break Rule of Always Voting Democratic.

By The Associated Press

AMARILLO, Tex., Sept. 17—Wendell L. Willkie urged southerners today to abandon their traditional Democratic affiliations because, he said, President Roosevelt in seeking a third term was breaking a still older tradition.

Addressing an audience in Ellwood park, the Republican presidential nominee said "southerners say to me we believe in everything you believe in.

"But, they say, they have a great tradition in the south, a tradition 80 years or more old, and that is the tradition of voting Democratic. They say it's difficult for us to abandon that tradition.

"No one in all this land could be more sympathetic with that viewpoint than I. Traditions have a way of being true.

"I would say that under normal circumstances for the people of the south to live up to that tradition would be a very proper and a very wise thing to do.

Traditions in Conflict

"But the people of the south are faced with a conflict of traditions. In order to keep that 80 year old tradition they must abandon another tradition. That tradition is 150 years old. * * *"

Saying that rotation of persons in office was necessary "for the preservation of democracy," Willkie continued:

"The only difference between this great democracy of ours and totalitarianism is the continuance in office of one man."

As the crowd applauded, the nominee added:

"Germany found the indispensable man, Italy found the indispensable man and Russia found the indispensable man."

Willkie declared that a spokesman for Argentina had announced the administration would modify a sanitary regulation "after election in order to let Argentina cattle come into the United States."

Then, the Republican nominee said, the President declared that he had been misunderstood in a talk with the Argentine representative.

Willkie chose Amarillo, in the home state of Vice President Garner, for another speech on the subject after telling an audience last night at Tulsa, Okla.:

"If there was ever a time in the history of this country when every Democrat, every Republican, every Independent, should say that we should limit the power of office and the length allotted to its occupancy by one man, it is now.

"Perhaps in less difficult times, when democracy was not in test as a way of life in the world, we might be able to afford the luxury of a third term by an attractive figure.

"But how can any person who loves this precious way of life take a chance at this time when the very doctrine, carried to its conclusion, would destroy this way of life?"

Willkie noted at the start of his Tulsa speech that he was in "so-called Democratic country," and promptly asked:

In Democratic Territory

"Will they vote against me because I am advocating that doctrine which Thomas Jefferson thought so important, namely, limitation of any one man's tenure of the presidency to two terms?

"Surely every Democrat ought to applaud me not alone for maintaining that tradition, but also for maintaining that policy which has been readopted by Democratic conventions time and time again in the last 150 years."

Four hours before speaking at the Tulsa fairgrounds, Willkie talked at Coffeyville, Kas. He asserted that if President Roosevelt should be reelected, "you will be serving under an American totalitarian government before the long third term is finished."

The Republican presidential nominee, whose voice was back to normal after a week-end hoarseness, charged at Coffeyville that Mr. Roosevelt's influence had weakened democracy throughout the world and that "here in America he has strained our democratic institutions to the breaking point."

Will Zurbucken, assistant director of the Kansas state highway patrol, estimated 67,000 persons were at the park and that 25,000 were in Coffeyville during the day.

Willkie called the present campaign "the battle of America,"

Marion Pedestrian Dies After Being Hit by Train

Charles McDonald, 71, of Edwards Street, Struck at Mill Street Crossing While Carrying Home Federal Relief Food Order.

Charles McDonald, 71, of 266 Edwards street was fatally injured this morning when struck by a passenger train on the Big Four tracks between Prospect and Main streets.

The accident occurred at 9:50 a. m. and Mr. McDonald died at City hospital at 10:30 o'clock without regaining consciousness.

A short time before the mishap, Mr. McDonald had received a food order at the surplus commodities station on Mill street and the accident occurred a few yards from the station as he was walking home.

Struck Glancing Blow

Railroad company officials quoted Engineer Mahaffey of the train crew as saying he sounded the train whistle and attempted to stop the train when he saw Mr. McDonald walking across the tracks but was unable either to attract his attention or stop the train in time to avoid the mishap. He said Mr. McDonald was nearly across the tracks and consequently was struck a glancing blow by the engine.

Mr. McDonald was hurled about 15 feet by the impact. He was taken to the hospital in the W. C. Boyd ambulance and after his death was removed to the Boyd funeral home on West Columbia street.

Railroad officials said the train had made a stop at the Union station and they estimated it was traveling between 15 and 20 miles-an-hour at the time of the accident. The train stopped for about 10 minutes and then continued on its scheduled run to Cleveland.

Narrow Escape Week Ago

Acquaintances of Mr. McDonald said he was nearly deaf and expressed the opinion he did not hear the train approaching. Friends said a week ago today he was nearly struck by a passenger train at the Big Four crossing on Main street—a few yards from the scene of today's accident—and was saved only by the quick action of another elderly man who pushed him out of the train's path.

Until his retirement about 15 years ago, Mr. McDonald was a drayman here and made his home on North Grand avenue. Recently he had been rooming at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Emery at the Edwards street address.

He was born Jan. 22, 1869 at Evansville, Ind., to John and Maria McDonald, natives of Scotland, and came to Marion when a youth. He was married twice. His second wife, Mrs. Minnie Stewart McDonald, died in 1937.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Essie Crizer of Monaco, Pa., and Mrs. Nora Mohat of Columbus, and a half-brother, O. W. McElhaney of North State street.

GERMANS PUSH INVASION PLANS

Churchill Tells Commons Hitler Will Strike at Best Opportunity.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 17 — Winston Churchill disclosed to the house of commons today that the Germans are continuing "steadily" to deploy barges and ships in preparation for an invasion of the British Isles and warned: "We must expect that he will make the attempt at what he judges to be the best opportunity."

He referred, of course, to Adolf Hitler.

Churchill spoke before an assemblage of commons which began at 2:45 p. m. (8:45 a. m. Marion time) but the fact that it was in session was kept secret for more than two hours, because of repeated air raids over London.

The great stained glass windows of the house had been removed and plain glass substituted.

The house adjourned shortly after it had assembled when the sirens sounded the third alarm since dawn at 2:53 p. m., (8:53 a. m. Marion time) but reassembled before the all-clear blew.

The prime minister's statement, his first to commons in nearly two weeks, ranged from a capitulation of air raid casualties at home to a terse announcement that "sharp fighting" was taking place between the armored vehicles of British forces in western Egypt and those of the Italian invader.

Disclosing that 2,000 persons had been killed and about 8,000 wounded in the first half of September in air raids on Britain, Churchill asserted this bombardment was carried out with the "silly" idea that it would force the British to make peace. He added:

"We can await the decision of sober and increasing confidence."

That, he asserted, was because the royal air force has done serious damage to the German invasion preparations on the other side of the English channel and because British strength is developing steadily by air, land and sea.

"We are only now beginning to get the increased flow of production fro mthe great programs

WIFE OF COUNTY GOLF CHAMP WINS

Mrs. John Rife Women's Winner at Mar-O-Del.

Mrs. John Rife of 192 St. James street, wife of the county golf champion, retained the women's title at the Mar-O-Del club by defeating Mrs. Sherman Haldeman of 221 Bain avenue Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Rife, holder of the Mar-O-Del women's crown last year, won the decisive match, 4-2. She needs but only one more championship to gain permanent possession of the club cup.

Mrs. Haldeman, a newcomer in golf this year, turned in a 48 on the first nine holes, the best score in her short golfing experience. Mrs. Rife finished the first round only one stroke ahead with a 47. On the last round, Mrs. Rife gradually pulled away from her opponent, turning in a 37 for the seven holes played. Mrs. Haldeman tallied 40.

Mrs. Rife's husband, who is greenskeeper at Mar-O-Del course, won the county championship for the second consecutive year Sunday by defeating Robert Owens, Country club title holder.

METHODIST PASTORS NAMED FOR DISTRICT

All in Eastern Marion County Reassigned at Delaware.

Pastors of Methodist churches in eastern Marion county were returned for another year when assignments were read yesterday at the closing sessions of the North-East Ohio conference at Delaware.

Those returned in Marion county are Rev. E. E. McBroom at Caledonia, Rev. B. P. Angle at the Claridon and Kirkpatrick churches and Rev. J. J. Adams who serves the Martel church in Marion county and the Iberia church in Morrow county.

Rev. H. W. Peterson of Mansfield was reassigned as superintendent of the Mansfield district, of which the eastern Marion county churches are a part.

Pastors assigned in this area, many of them for another year, include the following:

Ashley, A. B. Johnson; Bloomingrove, I. D. Cooper; Brokensword, J. W. Dows; Bucyrus Epworth, G. A. Hickson; Bucyrus First, A. J. E. Manton; Cardington, R. S. McCutcheon; Chesterville, A. M. Bosler; Crestline, O. F. Hull; Delaware Asbury, R. T. Alton; Delaware Grace, I. D. Rife; Edison, B. T. Riley; Fredericktown, A. M. Burkhardt; Fredericktown circuit, I. D. Archibald; Galena, W. T. McWilliams; Galion First, W. N. Robertson; Galion Market Street, William Dunning; Galion circuit, Lloyd Babb; Kilbourne, G. H. Langford; Marengo-Fulton, D. E. Syler; Mt. Gilead, L. Eugene Bush; Nevada-Eden charge, E. E. Prescott; New Washington, C. F. Hager; Sparta, M. LaFollette; Sunbury, G. O. Bennethum; Sycamore, B. O. Vansyoc.

Resolutions attacking the Burke - Wadsworth compulsory military training bill as a "flagrant denial of civil liberties" and condemning the growth of anti-Semitism won unanimous support of the church men, according to The Associated Press.

Lakewood Methodist church was chosen for the thirtieth annual convention, tentatively set for June 25, 1941.

TAX ON FEDERAL BONDS DELAYS PROFITS BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — Senate leaders said today that a developing controversy over a proposal to tax governmental securities appeared to be the only major barrier to approval of an excess profits tax bill, carrying with it a 3.1 per cent increase in corporation income taxes.

They forecast, however, that there would be sufficient votes from a bi-partisan group of opponents to defeat the proposal and make possible passage of the tax bill by Thursday morning.

A recess because of the death of Speaker Bankhead deferred until Wednesday further debate on the measure.

TAKEN BY DEATH

W. N. HARDER

ILLNESS FATAL TO W. N. HARDER

Marion Attorney Stricken; Practiced Law Here More Than 30 Years.

Death claimed William N. Harder, Marion attorney and former Republican leader in Marion county, last night at 10 o'clock at his home at 434 East Church street.

Ill for the last six years, Mr. Harder made daily visits to his office at 129 North Main street until two years ago when he suffered a nervous breakdown.

Mr. Harder practiced law in Marion over a period of more than 30 years, coming here in 1906 from Washington, D. C., where his early years as a lawyer were spent as special legal examiner in the United States pension bureau. He went with the bureau in 1896, shortly after his graduation from the law college of National university in Washington, D. C., and it was on a trip to Marion for the bureau that he decided to come to Ohio and establish an office here. He was admitted to practice in Ohio in 1906.

Member of Law Firm

For a time he had his own office in the old Copeland building at the corner of Main and Center streets. He became a member of the firm of Scofield, Durfee & Harder when William E. Scofield became judge of Marion County common pleas court in 1909. The firm members were George B. Scofield, Bright Durfee and Mr. Harder. Following Mr. Durfee's death and Mr. Scofield's subsequent election to the common pleas bench about 12 years ago, Mr. Harder practiced alone until Jan. 1, 1935, when he formed a partnership with Henry A. Mickley in the firm of Harder & Mickley.

Mr. Harder's field in law was primarily with banking and real estate interests. When he was taken ill he resigned as vice president, member of the board of directors and attorney for the Marion Federal Savings & Loan Co. He also was counsel for the Fahey Banking Co. and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad.

Active in G.O.P. Circles

For many years Mr. Harder was active in Republican circles in the county and at the time he was taken ill he was serving as chairman of the central committee. He at one time headed the civil service commission here.

Mr. Harder was a member of the First Presbyterian church, was an elder in the church for many years, belonged to both the Ohio State and Marion County Bar associations and was a member of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., Marion Chapter No. 62, R. and S. M., Marion Council No. 22, R. A. M., Marion Commandery No. 36, Knights Templar, and Marion Lodge No. 402, Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. Harder Widely Known

His widow, Mrs. Margaret G. Harder, is widely known over the state, having served as president of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs from 1928 to 1930.

During her regime a scholarship fund was established by the federation to provide for the education of young women of South America at Ohio State university, and was named the Margaret G. Harder Pan-American Fellowship fund, in her honor. It was one of the first "good neighbor" movements in the country.

Surviving with Mrs. Harder are two brothers, J. Harold Harder of Toledo and Worth Cleland Harder of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Harder was born near Niles, Mich., on Dec. 31, 1869, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James E. Harder. His early education was

Marion County O. N. G. Prepares for Active Duty

More Than 100 To Be in Local Units Answering Mobilization Call Oct. 15.

Between 100 and 150 Marion county men who are members of the Ohio National Guard or who may join in the next few weeks will be mobilized four weeks from today for a year of active duty at Camp Shelby, Miss.

All Ohio units of the Guard, with the exception of three, were called up for duty on Oct. 15 in orders issued today, The Associated Press reported.

For Ohio, the order meant some 8,500 men will leave jobs and homes for a year of army life. The call resulted from a war department order yesterday summoning an additional 35,000 men from Ohio, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Mississippi, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

In Marion, Co. D, 1st Battalion, 166th Infantry, and Headquarters Detachment, 3rd Battalion, 166th Infantry, are the units affected. Neither company has yet received official instructions from the war department, but officers of both units have been following recent developments closely and viewed today's news as no surprise.

Recruits Sought

Both units are busy seeking recruits to build up their strength to full peace time levels and also to replace men who resigned because of family responsibilities. All men from the rank of first lieutenant down are to have an opportunity to resign if they have wives or children as dependents. A number of members of the Marion units are taking advantage of this offer, and will be replaced with new recruits as rapidly as possible.

Guardsmen have been speculating for several months about probable developments, and had expected the mobilization to come on Oct. 15. They predicted the men will not be ready to leave here promptly on the mobilization date, but probably will go to camp about Nov. 1.

So far as details of activities here in preparation for mobilization are concerned, officials of both Marion guard units are awaiting arrival of official orders from the war department.

The three Ohio units excluded from yesterday's war department's order comprise about 3,000 men. They were the 37th tank company, Port Clinton, and companies F and I, 112th medical regiment, with headquarters at Steubenville and Mount Vernon, respectively.

When the war department order becomes effective, Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light and Brig. Gen. Robert Robert S. Beightler, Ohio director of highways, will be called from state service. Beightler commands the seventy-fourth brigade, while Light is a major general in the regular army. Light said he would ask Gov. John W. Bricker for a year's leave from the adjutant general post.

Rigid physical examinations must be passed by guardsmen entering upon the 12-month defense preparation.

Included in the detachments to be inducted Oct. 15 are:

Special Thirty-Seventh division troops with headquarters and five units in Columbus, one unit in

"CANDY JOHN" DIES AT CRESTLINE HOME

Former Marion Hotel Owner Taken by Death.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Sept. 17—John M. (Candy John) McClellan, 77, retired Marion and Crestline hotel owner, died at 10 o'clock last night at his home here of complications after a year's illness.

Known to many persons only as "Candy John," Mr. McClellan had been in the hotel business here for about 40 years. About 35 years ago he operated the old European hotel in Marion for five or six years and developed a wide acquaintance in Marion. The European hotel was located in the Barnhart building on Center street just east of the courthouse.

Mr. McClellan was born March 19, 1863 in New Brighton, Penn., and on Nov. 8, 1892 was married to Eva Nelle Burnison, who survives with a sister, Mrs. Emma Davis of Pittsburgh.

"Candy John" started in the hotel business at Crestline and then went to Marion, later returning to Crestline. He ran the Central hotel at Crestline for about 10 years and the Emerson hotel for some 30 years. He died at his home at 115 North Thomas [illegible]

CONSCRIPTION CALL GOES OUT

16,500,000 Get Orders To Register for Selective Service Oct. 16.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 — In "the factories and fields, the cities and towns," 16,500,000 young Americans, 21 through 35 years old, got their orders from President Roosevelt today to register Oct. 16 for possible service in a great new citizen army.

With the quick strokes of a couple of cheap, scratchy pens, the Chief Executive signed the nation's first peacetime conscription bill at 3:08 p. m. yesterday.

Then, laying the history-making law aside, he put his name to a proclamation which said this marshalling of military strength was "to fend off war from our shores," and to avoid "the terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack."

This new call to arms came as 60,000 national guardsmen were donning uniforms for a year's active duty and the war department announced 35,000 more would join the colors on Oct. 15, the day before conscription registration.

The draftees, also to be called up for a year, will receive their training with some 240,000 guardsmen, who will be mustered into federal service by Jan. 1, and with the regular army, now recruiting toward a strength of 375,000.

Order Expected Soon

Only the issuance of a presidential executive order, expected within the next few days, was left on the list of things to be done before the draft machinery—officially—is set in motion.

Actually, those who will aid in administering the peacetime conscription act already were working at high speed against registration day and an undesignated date in November—when Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, announced last night — the first thousands of draftees would be summoned. This first group is expected to number 75,000.

Marshall's announcement obviously was predicated on the belief that congress would approve the recent presidential request for an additional $2,000,000,000 defense appropriation, largely to defray the cost of the draft.

It also places an absolute limit of 900,000 on the number of draftees in training at any one time, and that means that the vast majority of those who sign registration cards will never learn the manual of arms or see the inside of a tank.

The President, in a statement issued when the proclamation was signed, said that many of these others "may serve their country best by holding their posts on the production line."

Still others, he said, would stay

British Report Ship Concentrations Scattered; Raids on London Continue.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 17—A westerly gale sweeping through the English channel throughout last night scattered Germany's invasion fleet and sent her ships scurrying for shelter, the air ministry announced today in giving reports of British reconnaissance planes.

Many British convoys passed through the channel today, without any German attempt to molest them, it was said.

British planes combing the German-occupied coast across the channel reported "sudden changes" in the disposition of German ships which previously had been spotted.

The storm, which along with a thick land fog, was a welcome barrier to any immediate invasion, failed however to stop German planes in their attacks at London.

The city experienced three air raid alarms during the day.

By mid-morning the Germans had made two daylight raids here following one of the heaviest night assaults on the British capital.

Another morning raid by a lone attacker on a southeast English town caused considerable damage and a number of casualties, with bombs hurled on a shopping center and private dwellings.

The air ministry announced German bombs fell last night in the heart of London's exclusive Mayfair area of the West End. Bond, Regent and Oxford streets, Piccadilly, Park Lane, Berkeley and Sloan Squares were hit.

An official announcement said that the night attacks were concentrated on the London area and that a number of fires were started and considerable damage done, but that casualties "on the whole, do not appear to have been heavy."

One of the daylight attackers was believed downed by anti-aircraft fire and another was reported snared in a barrage balloon cable during the night.

The admiralty announced that for the week ending Sept. 9 the Germans sank 54,547 tons of British, allied and neutral merchant shipping—a figure slightly above the weekly average of 53,000 tons, but less than a third of the 1,500 tons claimed by the Nazis.

Weather Aids Britain

Bringing what Britons considered to be relief from the danger of a channel invasion, a southwest wind of near-gale velocity churned the straits of Dover.

British seamen, watching the white-capped channel with practiced eye, said the blow looked like the beginning of the fall storms and declared that Adolf Hitler had lost his best chance to attempt a landing on the shores of England.

From the Dover coast an Associated Press correspondent telephoned this report to London: "It's 'Churchill weather' here this morning. There's a nasty cross sea running and the channel here would be bad for regular steamers in peacetime, let alone for any flat-bottomed troop barges."

London, battered for the tenth successive night by large numbers of Nazi warplanes, had its first daylight alarm of the day at 7:59 a. m. (1:59 a. m., Marion time) but the all clear sounded 47 minutes later without incident in the capital area.

A second alarm sounded at 9:09 a. m. (3:09 a. m. Marion time).

Hear Plane Crash

Several minutes before the alarm sounded passengers in a train standing outside a station in the London area reported hearing an airplane engine above the clouds and then a nearby anti-aircraft gun fired one round. A terrific crash on the opposite side of a hill followed, accompanied by an explosion which suggested the plane had crashed.

This alarm was lifted 55 minutes later, the all clear sounding at 10:04 a. m.

The Germans apparently hurled a greater number of planes than usual into the attack upon London last night and early this morning, but heavy fogs limited the effectiveness of their operations and broke them up.

Numerous high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped on the metropolitan area, starting a number of fires and causing some casualties—including several firemen who were killed while fighting a large blaze in central London.

Just as cheering to the British as the weather news were announcements of continued royal air force successes in attacks on German barge concentrations and channel bases.

"Invasion armada in chaos" exulted the London Mail in large headlines. "Havoc in channel bases" shouted the News Chronicle, and the jubilant Express proclaimed "Invader Hitler gets big battering."

Guns on Coast Shelling London, Germans Report

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Sept. 17 — Germany's long-distance guns on the French channel coast have begun to shell London, informed German sources disclosed tonight.

The guns which have gone into action against London are super-cannon hitherto unused, these sources said, and even now their firing is more or less limited to range-finding. Their use, however, is expected to increase daily.

(It is roughly 90 miles from the German occupied French coast to London).

The strictest secrecy prevails concerning the calibre of the guns. Informed sources, however, said that certain "Big Berthas" during the World war would fire 75 miles (one was used against Paris). Since then, they added, science has made great strides and the somewhat longer distance from Calais to London is "no problem."

From newsreel pictures which have been shown in the reich it appears that these new guns have barrels resembling a telescope.

That is, each section is slightly thinner than the preceding one, but the sections are connected by strong buttresses.

The newsreel pictures indicate these barrels actually sway in the air after a shot has been fired.

Meanwhile, DNB, the official news agency, said a "rolling" German air attack against London is continuing amidst rain and storm.

Authorized sources said heavy blows in the last 24 hours had

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — The romance of Ex-King Carol II of Rumania and his commoner sweetheart, Magda Lupescu, in many ways strangely parallels the love drama of Ex-King Edward VIII and Wallis Warfield.

Both women were divorcees.

Both figured in the changes of royal crowns.

Both offered to surrender their love to save the throne.

And both, eventually, won

Like Edward, Carol was headstrong Each was a headlined prince charming And Carol also renounced his throne, though the circumstances were different, and left with "the woman I love . "

By coincidence, Carol and Magda last week even spent the night in the same suite of hotel rooms in Barcelona, Spain, which were occupied by the Duke and the Duchess of Windsor in their flight from war-ravaged France last summer

Willing To Surrender

It was in the late 1920s that Magda reportedly became remorseful over keeping Carol from his throne and offered to give him up

Carol's first romantic escapade came in August, 1916, when Rumania entered the World war and the 22-year-old crown prince commanded a regiment

Driven back into Moldavia by the Germans, Carol and his troops camped at the town of Jassey, where he met the buxom daughter of a Rumanian army colonel, Jeanne "Zizi" Lamberino, and fell violently in love.

Leaving his regiment, Carol eloped with "Zizi" to Odessa, Russia, where they were married at the Orthodox church.

Blow To Queen

The elopement was a bitter blow to Carol's mother, Queen Marie, who dreamed of a great union of dynasties through marriages of state. Already, as Carol's prospective bride, she had chosen the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, who later was massacred by Bolsheviks with the rest of the imperial Romanoff family at Ekaterinberg

Royal influence quickly had the Rumanian high court of justice declare the marriage null and void, and Carol was clapped into a monastery for 75 days to reconsider

But the stubborn prince refused to yield

While friends contrived to smuggle notes from the monatery to "Zizi," Carol manifested alarming signs of despondency and failing health until his father, King Ferdinand, relented enough to permit him to see "Zizi"

Curiously enough, Carol was only following the example of his father 30 years earlier when Ferdinand fell in love with a beautiful commoner, Elena Vacaresco, and remained with her for three years despite parental displeasure

Didn't Want Throne

Carol insisted that he wanted to renounce his status as heir apparent, and in 1919 when "Zizi" was about to have a child and King Ferdinand ordered a world tour for Carol, the prince promptly shot himself in the leg.

The child, a boy named Mircea, was born Jan. 8, 1920, and when the official register omitted mention of the boy's paternity, Carol wrote "Zizi" a letter acknowledging his parenthood.

Except for clandestine meetings, they still were separated.

"I love and adore you, Zizi," he wrote. "I desire you eternally, and this separation, forced by my mother, burns into my heart. A thousand kisses."

Under increasing pressure by Queen Marie, however, Carol consented to a globe-girdling trip in 1920, stopping off in the United States for two weeks. When he returned, he found every detail had been arranged, without his knowledge, for his marriage to the classically beautiful Princess Elena of Greece

Amid glittering pomp and pageantry, Carol and Helen (as Elena became known) were married in Athens, Greece, on March 10, 1921

On Oct. 25, 1921, a son, Mihai, was born—and Carol, having fulfilled his "duty" of providing a royal heir to the succession, soon returned to "Zizi," the colonel's daughter.

But before long, it was the hapless "Zizi's" turn to weep as she stared dully at another letter from the errant prince:

"Forget. The charm is broken. I love my country more than you" A new star had risen in the orbit of Carol's tangled love life.....

OLD EDICT DISPLAYED

By The United Press

WILMINGTON, Del—The Wilmington public library is displaying a 161-year-old state document that prohibited the exportation of provisions out of Delaware. The proclamation, issued by Caesar Rodney when he was governor, was intended to stem the shipping of provisions out of Delaware to any part "beyond the seas." Dated 1779, the document was presented to the library by George P. Bissell of Wilmington.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is as an application for massaging the body during pregnancy ... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable ... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin ... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

BRICKER'S FRAUDULENT CLAIMS

When Martin L. Davey was Governor, he prided himself on making his public statements so accurate that none was ever challenged, not even by his severest critics

Martin L. Davey

But we have another glaring example of Bricker's careless falsehoods in his oft-repeated claim that he inherited a $3,000,000 00 deficit. As a matter of fact, Davey left him an unencumbered cash balance of $3,000,000 00 in the general revenue fund Mr. Bricker wanted to make himself out as some kind of financial wizard, and so he invented the idea of a deficit.

Last November, when he went down to New York to address the Ohio Society, he lugged along his alleged deficit, but when he looked at the tall buildings in New York, $3,000,000 00 did not seem very big, so he hiked the deficit promptly to $40,000,000.00.

At the first of this year, he claimed to have a surplus of two and a half million. What a superman genius he was to change a deficit of $40,000,000 00 in November to a surplus of two and a half million in January.

Mr Bricker claims to be a lawyer. If so, he should understand the constitution and laws of Ohio Davey is not a lawyer, but is a successful business man. He claims to understand the English language.

The constitution of Ohio prohibits any State debt, without a vote of the people, in unmistakable language, except $750,000 that must be voted by the Legislature for emergency purposes.

There was such a State debt of $750,000 when Davey first became Governor, but he paid it off at the end of the first year There has been no such debt since that time.

The State laws on financial matters are very, very strict. No money can be spent unless it is first appropriated by the Legislature, and is in the bank. The Director of Finance must certify that the money has been appropriated and is on hand.

The State Auditor is prohibited by law from issuing checks, unless the Director of Finance certifies that the money has been appropriated, and is in the bank. If the auditor would draw one check contrary to these stringent laws, he could be thrown out of office, and the money could be collected on his bond.

There was no State debt when Davey became Governor (except $750,000, which he paid off at the end of his first year) There was no State debt when Davey left the Governor's office. There is no State debt now. There will be no State debt in the future, unless it is voted by the people.

Mr Bricker shows himself to be a very poor lawyer, by his fraudulent claims about a deficit, which does not exist and cannot exist. He also shows himself to be intellectually dishonest.

Two Who Will Be Missed

THE coincidence of each major party losing a distinguished leader at the instant when politics is getting squared away for the quadrennial presidential campaign has a sobering effect. Men who do the spade work in political parties are hardest of all to replace.

Speaker William B. Bankhead's death deprives the Democratic party of one of its most faithful workers. Speaker Bankhead might have been the party's vice presidential candidate this year had the party's convention been free to make a free choice. A loyal party man, he typified the kind of legislator who puts service ahead of inclination. He and others like him have exerted a stabilizing influence on the Democratic party in a period of internal strain and confusion.

Glenn Frank, in another capacity, had performed the same kind of service for the Republican party. More philosopher than politician, he left the educational field under political pressure in Wisconsin to begin a new career as policy adviser to the Republican national committee. Whatever success the opposition has had and will continue to have in contributing to continuance of the two-party system of government can be attributed to Dr. Frank in large part. As a candidate for nomination as senator from Wisconsin, he was ready to submit his political principles to the electorate's judgment when he and his son were killed in an automobile accident.

More of Il Duce's Bravery

ITALIAN bombing of Tel Aviv, all-Jewish city in Palestine, presents another example of the brave exploits of Benito Mussolini's airmen and demonstrates that Il Duce is an apt pupil of Adolf Hitler in the military as well as political field.

The white city on the shores of the Mediterranean, without military objectives and absolutely undefended, had been declared an open city and, hence, should have been immune to attack under international law. Under these circumstances Il Duce's fliers could attack without fear of injury to themselves.

The Italians, whose record includes successful aerial bombardment of grass hut villages in Ethiopia, apparently have learned much from Germany's destruction of Rotterdam and other unprotected cities. It will be recalled that son Vittorio Mussolini, a chip off the old block, when visiting in this country a couple of years ago referred to the bombing of Ethiopian villages as one of the greatest sports in the world and described it as "resembling the budding of a red rose in the desert." Perhaps Il Duce just is seeing how roses bud on the shores of the Mediterranean.

Keeping Thumb on Big Issue

AMATEUR or no amateur, Wendell Willkie continues to keep his thumb on the principal issue of the campaign—the third term—and refuses to let it be obscured by pettifogging on minor issues. His answer to New Deal claims that President Roosevelt is "indispensable" because of his experience in foreign affairs with the observation that European dictators also are "indispensable" lays further stress on this vital issue.

Mr. Willkie himself has stressed that to win the election he must have the support of three great groups of voters: the regular Republicans, the old line Democrats and the great mass of independents. The third term issue, being the greatest point of difference between the two candidates, furnishes an admirable rallying point on which Mr. Willkie can lay his claims for support.

Of the support of the regular Republicans, Mr. Willkie can have no doubt, if for no other reason than that of political necessity. The "regular" politicians who opposed him at Philadelphia naturally cannot support the opposition. But to the great mass of Republican voters he comes as a symbol of the new role which the renovated G. O. P. may play in the life of the nation.

To the old line Democrats the third term issue emphasizes their split with the New Dealers and serves as a reaffirmation of the anti-third term tradition of Thomas Jefferson, the patron saint of Jeffersonian Democracy.

The independent voter should be more afraid of the ambition of Mr. Roosevelt to perpetuate his hold on the presidency than of any other single act of the New Deal party. For by his being an independent voter and refusing to ally himself permanently with any single party he emphasizes his basic belief in political change and abhorrence of entrenchment of any political system.

News Behind the News

U. S. Reported Checking on Rumor That Trouble's Brewing in Mexico.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Topmost ferrets of this government are investigating rumors that have come their official way about undercover Nazi efforts to rouse trouble that will occupy our attention with Mexico.

Wisps of information have been floating around in a high altitude here suggesting that within 60 days a couple of American divisions might have to be sent south of the Rio Grande if the Germans succeed in carrying out their designs. Rumors that arms, planes and money have been shipped in there have reached official quarters.

Paul Mallon

How much residue of truth will be found in these hazy suggestions is not yet apparent but they are not just the usual stories about Mexico. Officialdom is paying them the respect of a thorough inquiry.

Suggestions that the disappointed presidential pretender Almazan may be getting some Nazi aid toward establishing his claims are known by our officials to be wholly untrue. Washington has a pretty good line on everything Almazan has done during his stay in this country. He was a thoroughly pro-United States candidate and still is.

But some of the army people supporting him may possibly have been somewhat less scrupulous. He has for instance indicated he had no knowledge of actions taken by some of his affiliates lately in connection with the demanded impeachment of Cardenas. Nor have the Nazi infiltration reports been confined to his political side in the combustible Mexican political situation.

One thing is clear: Hitler would certainly enjoy a revolution in Mexico.

Gold Hoard Grows

This country has acquired more gold so far this year than it received the whole of last year.

People who shudder at the sight of a statistic may not be impressed, but they are now the owners of $20,871,000,000 worth. True, it is a "mustn't touch" ownership because they are not allowed to have any, but Secretary Henry Midas Morgenthau has dug holes in the ground to hold it in their name. It may not fill a cavity as large as the Grand Canyon, but it is more than two-thirds of all the gold in the world, roughly calculated now at $29,000,000,000.

And still it comes....$408,800,000 imported in August, $499,000,000 in July, $754,000,000 in June. About half the imports represent transfers of capital from the rest of the war torn world. Only one fourth comes in payment for our goods. Another fourth is classified at federal reserve headquarters here as "unidentified capital transactions"—a polite phrase for legal smuggling around restrictions in various countries.

What Will Happen

What will happen when we get it all, and the other nations are deprived of this medium of international purchases, is not known to any one here. Propagandists are now publishing numerous books to show that another devaluation may develop or that the fictitious arbitrary value we have fixed at $35 an ounce will toboggan down to a realistic basis of what gold is really worth for filling a tooth or for other commercial purposes—the primary uses it may then enjoy.

Some goldminded economists have become so excited they think any one is a Nazi who holds such views. That is about as likely as the possibility that it is the Nazis who are shipping gold in here to get the $35 an ounce and confound us.

The men who really know the problem most thoroughly—the experts at federal reserve headquarters—are least inclined to jump to conclusions. They are waiting for the forthcoming Wagner committee investigation of monetary policy to find the answers.

Air Battle

Daylight raids over London depress the military men who believe the strength of the British air force can be measured by the duration and success of such attacks. They have expected German conquest in the air would be followed immediately by invasion.

Not much faith has eben pinned in the new air defense devices claimed by the British. The "new device" seems to be simply the the collection and concentration of best AA guns from all over the island, for use in the London sector. At the outset London had only the older AA types.

U. S. Opinion

American public opinion is reported within administration quarters to be surging fast toward further British sympathy as a result of the heinous Hitler's ruthlessness. As this has been the guide to Mr. Roosevelt's development of policy; further American aid is considered possible.

The Republican View.

While Jack Stinnett, who writes "Washington Daybook," is on vacation, the space usually devoted to his column will be made available to the two major parties for a pro-and-con presentation of an agreed list of political subjects. Neither side has seen the other's article and there will be no rebuttal.

By DANIEL A. REED
Member, Committee on Ways and Means, House of Representatives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—More red ink has been used in the national bookkeeping under the fewer than eight years of the Roosevelt New Deal administration than in all previous years in the history of the Republic.

Should we be inflicted with four years more of like spending, extravagance and waste—without including the extraordinary expenditures now required for national defense—the red ink supply would doubtless be completely exhausted.

How we are now to meet the demands for the necessary expenditures for incrased military, naval and air defenses is a problem imposed by law on the house of representatives, to which is given the taxing power. It is one that appears well nigh insoluble.

The New Deal financial policy, if such a policy exists at all, is mainly confined to spending and borrowing with never a thought of the morrow.

Even taxation to meet the interest on the national debt becomes an almost unsupportable burden upon the American people.

THE result of contiuous annual deficits, totalling more than twenty-one billions of dollars for the seven New Deal years from March 1, 1933, to March 1, 1940, with an increase in the national debt of an even greater sum, is to leave our financial structure in a deplorable state of weakness at a time of crisis and when the national economy should be on a sound basis and a source of strength, rather than weakness.

Although President Roosevelt has demanded enormous new taxes and has called upon the nation to make every sacrifice in support of urgent national defense needs, not a dollar of economy has been enforced upon the sprawling peace-time bureaucracy built up by the New Dealers since 1933. Every federal boon-doggling project continues at full throttle. Repeated demands in congress that a portion of the defense funds be diverted from extravagant and wasteful pump-priming enterprises have been rejected by the President.

CONG. DANIEL A. REED

More than 50,000 persons have been added to the civil payrolls of the federal government during the last ninety days. For the first time in our history the federal bureaucracy now numbers more than 1,000 payrollers, exclusive of all military personnel and relief workers.

The peak employment in the federal government during the World war was 918,000. The New Deal passed this World war peak in June, 1939, two months before the European war started, and almost a year before President Roosevelt recommended expansion of the national defenses.

THERE is, as the effect of the New Deal's ruinous fiscal policies, the continuous threat of inflation.

"What would be the results of such inflation?

Untold hardships will be visited on all our people.

Savings, big and little, will lose most of their value. Insurance companies and banks will go to the wall. The endowments of our charitable, fraternal, social, religious and educational institutions, endowments which have taken years to create, will be reduced to a mere pittance.

The increase in the cost of living will put even the essentials of life—adequate food, clothing and shelter—beyond the reach of a majority of the population. Even those yet unborn will pay the price for our folly.

No person or group of persons will escape. Wage earners will see the purchasing power of their pay envelopes shrink as inflation brings a ruinous rise in prices. As a result the worker's standard of living will be reduced to the barest subsistence level.

Salary workers will be hit even more quickly, for salaries are relatively fixed and adjustments are not made as rapidly. Those who live on pensions, annuities, or interest from life-time savings will meet a like fate.

Farmers will suffer even more than other groups for though they might seem to gain temporarily while prices are moving up, this in the end will be an illusive gain. Recall that the source of present farm problems lies in war inflation. Should we embark upon a similar inflation, the farmer can look forward only to more of the same troubles he has been fighting for twenty years.

FURTHERMORE it is doubtful if our system of free government and free private enterprise could withstand this shock. Dictators now rule the people in Europe where government spending and inflation first ran their course.

The first step toward real national defense remains today, as a year ago, a restoration of order and stability in Federal finances.

As President Roosevelt himself reminded the nation with such impressive eloquence in 1932, "too often in history liberal governments have been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy."

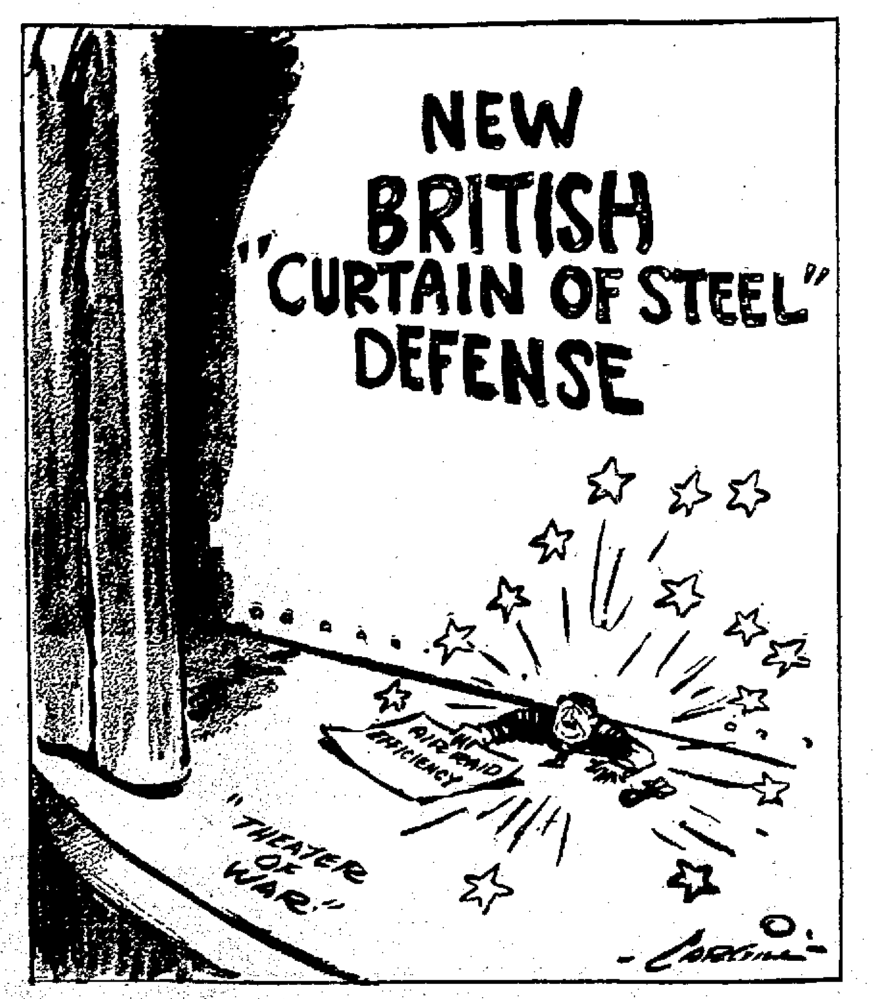
THE NEW LONDON OPERA SEASON



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1930.

Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, was elected a member of the permanent court of international justice, or world court, to replace Charles Evans Hughes who had resigned to become chief justice of the U. S. supreme court.

Mrs. A. J. Houghton was named a delegate to the state King's Daughters convention in Bellefontaine at a meeting of the Circle of Service, King's Daughters, held at the home of Mrs. F. O. Howard on East Washington avenue.

Funeral services were held for Col. George B. Christian, Marion businessman and Civil war veteran, whose death had accurred Monday at his home on East Church street. He was buried with military honors. Included among the funeral tributes was a letter from Gov. Myers Y. Cooper to George B. Christian Jr., Col. Christian's son, in which the governor paid high tribute to Col. Christian and his service to the community and nation.

Miss Martha McGee of Cherry street went to Wooster to enroll in Wooster college.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Sept. 17, 1920.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kehrwecker of Mark street and a son to Mr. and Mrs. James Duffy of Blaine avenue.

D Co. arrived home from Camp Perry where it had been since Sept. 1. While there the company made an exceptionally fine showing, receiving a number of citations for the excellence of its work.

Rev. D. C. Hollinger resigned the pastorate of the United Brethren church here, where he had served six years. He went to Willard to take charge of the church there. His successor here was Rev. O. F. Laughbaum, who came from Willard, the two ministers exchanging places at their own request.

A delegation of several hundred persons from various Ohio counties visited the Harding front porch and heard Senator Harding speak in observance of the 133rd anniversary of the ratification of the Constitution of the United States. He said the paramount issue of the campaign was whether the American Constitution or the covenant of Versailles should be adhered to in this country. The audience included representatives from 10 Ohio counties, some of the groups coming by automobile, others by train. Both Baker's and Dowler's bands were out to lead the different groups in their march to the Harding home.

Today and Tomorrow

Reason and Courage Seen in Bitter Fight British Are Giving Nazis.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—The awe-inspiring courage of the British people could not be sustained if along with their brave hearts they did not also have clear heads. They fight on and they are determined to fight back not in the manner of men resisting blindly but as men who know the position, and the odds, and the real alternative.

Only a great people could do this. The British are a great people. They have organized the largest security system that the world has known since the Romans, and with all their mistakes they have extended more widely the area of law and order than it was ever before extended on earth. This great history is in them now, and now at last they are led by a man who knows their history; and having the quality of greatness and being greatly led, their reason does not undermine but on the contrary strengthens the courage of their hearts. They see clearly. As long as they see clearly, they will not be intimidated or demoralized.

Walter Lippmann

What they see so clearly is not only that if they resist they will eventually win but that if they do not resist, they are utterly and absolutely lost. They know that if they do not resist to the uttermost in the British Isles, and that, were they defeated there, if they do not resist in the empire, they will be disarmed and helpless, perhaps forever.

Resist at Home

So they resist at home, knowing that if ever they were conquered in the British Isles, their fleet and their air force and their commercial power in the outer world will continue to protect them against enslavement and destruction. The essence of their courage is the knowledge that Britain cannot be defeated in Britain alone, and the lot of the people of Britain can never be hopeless as long as the empire and the fleet remain in being..

This is the great lesson taught by the tragic experience of France. The French people were poorly led and in the crisis of June the men who came to power lost their heads as they lost their courage. They made the terrible mistake of thinking that they could ingratiate themselves with the victors by rendering themselves completely helpless. So they surrendered not merely France, which was overrun, but empire, which was intact, and the fleet and the air force as well. They surrendered also their moral position by the unprecedented folly of hastening to fasten upon themselves the guilt for the war and to exonerate their conquerors.

They were misled into believing that the more impotent they were, the better terms they would receive. No greater error was ever

Jessie Grossinger started Grossinger's quite by accident 26 years ago in a small house on a 60-acre farm. She thought she was greatly favored by providence when she averaged nine guests at $9 a week. Over the recent Labor day holidays she had 850 guests paying $8,000 per day. Grossinger's has expanded to 400 acres and 300 rooms, and Jennie Grossinger is now building a 125-

MRS. CHALFANT DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Funeral of Windsor St. Resident To Be Thursday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Permelia Chalfant, 85, widow of George W. Chalfant, died suddenly of a heart attack at 9:20 last night at her home at 458 Windsor street. She suffered a fractured hip in a fall three years ago and had been in failing health since that time.

Mrs. Chalfant had lived in Marion for the last 14 years. She was a member of the Prospect Street Methodist church, Mizpah Sunday school class and the Women's Division of Christian Service of the church.

She was born March 22, 1855 in Coshocton county, to William and Tabitha Barkhurst McFarland, natives of Ohio. Her marriage was to George Whitefield Chalfant whose death occured near Dresden, O. Feb. 9, 1919.

Surviving children are Rev. H. R. Chalfant of Willard, and Miss Lena E. Chalfant at home. A grandson, Paul Wesley Chalfant of Willard, three brothers, John F. McFarland of New Paltz, N. Y., Benjamin of Trinway, O., and George R. of Zanesville, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Luretta Dickerson of Frazeysburg, and Miss Theresa Sophia McFarland of Columbus also survive.

The body will be at the Merle H. Hughes funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue until 8:30 o'clock tonight when it will be taken to the residence. Short services will be held at the Chalfant home at 9 a. m. Thursday, followed by services in the Chalfant church in Coshocton county at 2 p. m. Rev. Henry Maag, pastor of the Prospect Street Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be in the Chalfant cemetery.

Manhood's success often depends upon childhood's vision

The leaders of tomorrow are the learners of today. A good education is a good foundation for successful adult years. Yet many bright, intelligent, alert youngsters are being robbed of a good education by defective sight. By poor vision that makes studying an exhausting chore, and learning difficult.

Give your child good vision. Have his eyesight examined—now—and corrected if need be. Equip him to learn easily now; his whole future depends upon it.

FIFTH PARALYSIS CASE LISTED HERE

Monroe St. Woman Critically Ill at Columbus.

A new case of infantile paralysis, the fifth in Marion in the last month, was reported by the city heath department today.

The latest patient is Mrs. Mae Kidd, 26, of 384 Monroe street who first became ill a week ago. Saturday her condition became critical and the illness was recognized as infantile paralysis, health department officials reported. She is confined at the contagion ward at University hospital, Columbus, and the Kidd home has been quarantined.

Another 26-year-old Marion woman died of the disease at University hospital last Saturday and a two-year-old boy died two weeks previously. Two other two-year-old children, a boy and a girl, were stricken about a month ago but have been released from quarantine and apparently are recovering, the attending physicians reported. All five cases have been in the northwest section of the city.

committed by an intelligent people. Had they followed the advice of Gen. de Gaulle, continued their resistance from Africa and Asia Minor and on the seas, they would at the very least have had some power with which to negotiate with the Germans and Italians. But, instead, they threw in their hand before they had played it out.

What Protects French

Indeed, what protects the French today from the same systematic destruction which has been visited upon the Poles is not Hitler's magnanimity toward Marshal Petain or his admiration for M. Laval, but simply and solely the power of the British resistance.

The immediate question is whether Hitler can win the Battle of Britain. But the greater question is whether, even if he did win it, his victory would be the decisive battle.

So the issue is immense, for it is no coincidence, but it is a profoundly significant truth, that the free nations of the world, the nations which have enjoyed and developed a regime of constitutional liberty, are established upon the shores of the ocean; the Scandinavians, the Dutch, the Belgians, the British, the French, and the Americans.

In the interior of the continent of Europe where it merges into Asia, military power and not naval power is supreme; and in the landlocked interior, away from the liberating seas, constitutional government has not taken root.

HEDGES-EVANS WEDDING READ AT PROSPECT

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, Sept. 17—The marriage of Miss Lucille Hedges and Robert L. Evans took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Methodist church with Rev. L. A. Griffith, pastor, reading the service. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ira D. Hedges of near Radnor and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Evans of near Richwood. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Donald Hedges sang two numbers, "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly."

For the ceremony the bride wore a costume in a soldier blue shade with brown accessories and her flowers were pink roses and gypsophila. Miss Nelda Hedges was her maid of honor. She wore a brown costume with a corsage of bronze mums. Ray Stiffler was Mr. Evans' best man.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's mother. The bride's table held a wedding cake which was cut by the new Mr. and Mrs. Evans. Presiding in the dining room were Miss Lucille Mueck and Mrs. Donald Hedges.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip the couple will live on a farm near Richwood.

Eastern Stars Start Activities of New Season

FALL and winter activities were launched by members of Lydia Chapter No. 23, Order of the Eastern Star, at a meeting last evening in the Masonic temple. Guests included Marion Bethel No. 2, Job's Daughters, and visitors from Prospect, Hillsboro, St. Clairsville and Pennsylvania.

During the business session at which Mrs. Jennie Ewing, worthy matron, presided, the charter was draped for the late Mrs. Edith Barnhart.

Members of Marion Bethel and Mrs Mildred Buente and Frank Little, guardian, conferred degree work on a class of five candidates. Later the bethel members were guests for a social hour. Refreshments were served to approximately 250 members and guests.

The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at which time R. A. Garvin, worthy patron, will be in charge of the program.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Nurse Whitlock Saves an Awkward Situation When Edith Asks to Speak With Madge Alone.

"YES, I am very sure," I answered firmly, silently asking forgiveness for the falsehood as I spoke.

"Indeed," I added, feeling that I might as well have the sheep's fate as the lamb's, "he would have been here before now, if it had not been for my father's commission."

She loosened her grasp on my hands, and settled back upon her pillows, while the pitiful wraith of a smile touched her lips.

"Thank you, Madge," she said. "I't helps me to think that, anyway."

The look in her eyes again made me glad of the prevarication, but the next second brought renewed perplexity to me as she turned her eyes to Miss Whitlock.

"I'd like to speak to Madge alone," she said courteously, but with definite purpose in her voice. "Do you mind?"

Ashamed of Fear

I was ashamed at the sudden chilling of blood in my veins. The warning of Lillian and Katherine that I must not permit myself to be alone with Edith rang in my ears. They had visioned an attempt by her to take me along with her in the suicidal journey Miss Whitlock was sure she was planning. Yet it seemed unbelievable that so frail and emaciated a figure could do any harm to me.

Common sense banished my fright. One thing was certain. She would do nothing, attempt nothing until she had seen Dicky. That was her sole goal. I looked toward Miss Whitlock in an appeal for permission to grant Edith's request.

But the nurse evidently was not ready to humor her patient. And she was equal to the occasion. She walked over to the bed and looked down calmly at the ravaged face turned up to her.

"Not just now," she said, and went steadily on even when Edith wailed, "Why? Why?" again.

"Perhaps a little later," she promised. "You see we haven't told you yet, but you and I are going to move downstairs for the night at least."

She turned to me with a quick question.

"You are almost ready, aren't you?" she asked.

"Completely," I said, and Edith's eyes mirrored fright.

"Where are you taking me, and why?" she asked wildly.

Miss Whitlock looked at me, and with the realization that it was the truth I had to tell Edith this time. I braced myself to go through that oft-repeated explanation once more.

"Father thinks there may be danger of fire when Jack Leslie and his gang attack us," I said. "Therefore he wishes all the women and children to sleep downstairs at night, so that they can get out in a hurry if necessary."

I had expected fear as the reaction to my news, but I had not foreseen the stark panic which flashed into her eyes.

"But," she stammered, "that means it will be like a barracks or a dormitory—won't it? I shall have to be in with all the rest—all those eyes, looking at me, wondering, speculating."

Her voice trailed off into silence, and once more she covered here eyes with her hands as if by the gesture she could shut out the picture her imagination was painting.

I looked at Miss Whitlock, and she answered the look by writing a message upon a scrap of paper and passing it to me.

"You understand her better than I. Deal with her as you think best," the message read.

MARTEL SCHOOL HEAD TAKES NEW POSITION

Wayne Galladay To Be Succeeded by Columbus Man.

Resignation of Vayne Galladay, supervising principal of the Martel centralized school for the last r years, and the appointment of James McDonald of Columbus to succeed him were announced today by D. T. Mills, county school superintendent.

Mr. Galladay tendered his resignation to the Martel school board last week to accept a position as field representative of the American Book Co., publishers of school text books. He will be assigned to the company's Cincinnati district. The change will become effective Sept. 27.

A former teacher at Roundhead and Delaware, Mr. Galladay has been at Martel since 1936. He is secretary of the county principals association and a member of the county school athletic committee.

Mr. McDonald, who is 36, was principal of Willard High school last year and previously taught for six years in Pennsylvania and Ohio high schools, Mr. Mills reported. He holds degrees of bachelor of science in education and master of science in school administration from Ohio State university.

In addition to serving as supervising principal, Mr. McDonald will teach several classes in the social science field, Mr. Mills announced.

FOUR KENTON PEOPLE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept. 17 — Four prominent Kenton persons were injured Sunday when the car in which they were riding collided with one driven by H. W. Crim of West Liberty. Crim suffered a broken kneecap and his daughter, Elaine, 13, has a broken right arm.

Mrs. E. E. Rutledge of Kenton was the most seriously injured. She has a compound fracture of the left leg and a broken right arm; Mrs. K. P. Johnson has a broken left knee; Mrs. Blanche Keller of Kenton, formerly of Toledo, a broken nose; and R. G. Merriman, driver of the car, a broken left knee. The latter four are in McKitrick hospital here.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Sept. 18

EXCELLENT progress and gratification in any number of vocations or avocations may be found among this day's planetary prospects. It will be a very lively and ambitious day, with hard work, application and good judgment brought to bear on a variety of objectives—business, artistic, musical or literary, while many creative talents are under fine impetus. The social, domestic and sentimental satisfactions are also quickened; but be not carried away by impetuosity or moved by petty bickerings. Create, be original.

Those whose birthday it is are under excellent promise for using a variety of talents in a highly creative and gratifying manner. In art, music, literature, in spiritual aspiration or more sordid inventive ambition, there is much planetary promise for development. The emotions and sentiments play their part in unfolding talents and in bringing pleasure. Business also thrives, but in all directions be not subject to impetuosity or strife.

A child born on this day may be talented and versatile, with splendid creative urges waiting development and expression. Its business sense and ambitions will not be lacking, but the cultural and emotional may dominate.

DEFENSE TRAINING PLANNED AT KENTON

100 Men To Take Course at High School.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept. 17—Supt. L. E. McKinley today announced completion of plans whereby the facilities of Kenton High school will be used to train more than 100 Hardin county men in machine shop and automotive mechanics before next spring, as an aid to the defense program of the United States.

The local program will get under way next Monday with a class of 36 men reporting for a 300 hours course of instruction. Fifty per cent of the students are enrolled from works projects administration rolls.

Roy McClellan will teach the machine shop course while Forrest Woolley will be instructor of automotive mechanics, it was announced.

As soon as the present 10-weeks course is completed, two additional courses, of similar duration, will follow, it was explained. Salaries of the instructors as well as all expense of materials used—electricity, janitorial service, heat and other items will be paid by the federal government.

A Los Angeles man has invented a light to be installed in automobiles to illuminate arms of drivers extended from cars for signalling at night.

Dog leashes made by a California man from parachute shroud lines are asserted to be strong enough to hold a horse although they weigh less than two ounces.

YOUR OMAR MAN OFFERS-

FREE $5000.00 IN CASH PRIZES

You win, whether you enter the contest or not, because you get extra value in 5 different ways—but enter today! Maybe you'll win one of the 1569 cash prizes!

All to Get You to Compare Omar Products and Service

HERE'S ALL YOU DO

We don't want you to take our word for the fact that Omar gives you greater value, fresher products, wider variety, and more convenient service, or that it has better facilities. We want you to "compare all 5" with other bakery products and service yourself.

After you've made this comparison, just complete this sentence in 25 words or less: "I've compared all five—I prefer Omar products and service because . . .". Omar is giving a grand prize of $1000.00 and 1568 other prizes for the best entries in eight weekly contests.

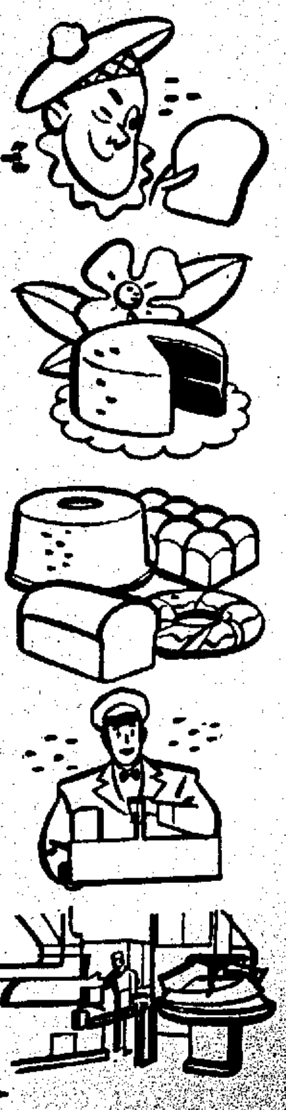
COMPARE ALL 5

HOW TO WIN First of all, get a free contest entry blank from any Omar man. Entry blanks contain helpful suggestions on how to win, a complete list of prizes, and the easy rules.

Next, compare Omar products and service with the bakery products and service you're now getting—or with any or all other bakery products and services. Complete the sentence, "I've compared all five—I prefer Omar products and service because . . .", in your own words, using 25 or less additional words. Give the entry to your Omar man. You don't need to be a fancy writer to win. Sincerity, aptness of thought and originality are what count.

Make the comparison, and enter today. Enter every week during the contest. The final contest closes at midnight, November 13, 1940.

READ THESE HELPFUL HINTS



1. COMPARE VALUE In spite of increased costs for ingredients and labor, and in spite of rising taxes, no Omar product has been cheapened or "short-weighted" in any way. We could use a cheap flour, but actually use the blue ribbon flour. Omar does not "cheat"—Omar gives more for the money in every product. Omar breads are rich in milk solids. Every ingredient used is selected because it makes the best, most flavorful bread, cake or roll—regardless of cost. Yet Omar bread, for example, sells for exactly the same price as ordinary bread.

2. COMPARE FRESHNESS Omar products have true "just-out-of-the-oven flavor" because they are delivered fresh to your home at the peak of flavor. Omar trucks are completely stripped of unsold products each night. All unsold goods are sold at reduced prices in special returned goods stores. No product ever goes out on an Omar route the second day. All Omar bread is oven-dated.

3. COMPARE VARIETY If your family tires of having the same things to eat every day, Omar will solve your problem. 22 varieties of bread, 37 varieties of cakes, 29 varieties of rolls, many types of cookies and a wide assortment of other baked foods give you practically unlimited variety. Omar products will satisfy the tastes of any family day after day, and week after week.

4. COMPARE SERVICE No other baker offers so complete a service. Omar service includes delivery direct to your door, in good weather or bad, every day or on whatever days you prefer. It takes less than a minute to make your selection from the basket with the aid of Omar's free weekly Food Magazine Product List. You pay at your convenience, just as you pay for your milk. Courteous, uniformed Omar men go to school to be trained in how to serve and please you.

5. COMPARE FACILITIES The Omar Bakery is the only bakery serving this community which controls the uniformity of its products from the wheat-fields to your doorstep. Omar selects its own wheat, mills its own flour, tests all ingredients and recipes in its own laboratories. Baking craftsmen, using the finest equipment available, thus give you breads, cakes, cookies and rolls of uniform quality day after day.

OHIO'S CANDIDATES SHOOT AT RECORDS

Bricker and Davey Spar in Weekly Talks.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17 — Ohio's gubernatorial nominees, incumbent Republican John W. Bricker and Democrat Martin L. Davey, sparred with each other over statewide radio networks last night.

Davey speaking first in a broadcast originating in Cleveland, accused the governor of "prevarication" in an assertion that the Davey administration put Ohio public schools $18, 000,000 in debt

The former governor seeking a third term declared that his administration left $6,500,000 in the treasury to be used against the school debt but that Bricker transferred it to the general revenue fund.

Bricker charged that Davey failed to operate with the state legislature during his tenure of office and that he falsified state budgets by an increase of $15,000,000 more than requirements so that he might "falsely claim credit" by vetoing millions in appropriations.

Bricker quoted from the report of a senate committee which investigated the Davey administration and added that "no such investigation ever will be necessary in this administration."

The governor said he was saving the state $1,000,000 annually in state purchases by establishing a competitive bidding system.

"Legal graft which became so infamous during the previous administration (Davey's) is now illegal in Ohio," Bricker said.

Davey attacked Bricker's claims of having inherited a state deficit in 1939.

"We left him an unencumbered cash balance of $3,000,000 in the general revenue fund," he said.

Davey prefaced his speech with the assertion that he entered politics as a hobby and that he owned a thriving business which could give him a better living than the governorship.

Politics with "the present governor is a meal ticket, with me an avocation," he said.

Earlier, in a meeting with Democratic candidates for the Ohio legislature Davey sought support for his proposed repeal of the state sales tax.

SCENE AS PRESIDENT MADE CONSCRIPTION BILL LAW

The nation's first peacetime draft bill is pictured being signed by President Roosevelt at the White House, bringing to a climax many weeks of debate that the bill aroused. Witnessing the ceremony are, left to right, Secretary of War Henry Stimson, Representative A. J. May, Army Chief of Staff George Marshall and Senator M. Sheppard, chairman of the military affairs committee. Immediately after affixing his signature the President issued a proclamation requiring the registration of all eligible males on Oct. 16.

Chillicothe, and one in Circleville:

One Hundred and Twelfth quartermaster regiment with headquarters and nine units in Columbus and one unit each in Cincinnati, Lima, Fremont, Kent and St. Mary's;

One Hundred and Twelfth medical regiment of central Ohio with headquarters and five units in Columbus; two units each in Akron and Bellefontaine, and one each in Van Wert, Westerville and Ashland;

Seventy-Third infantry brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. Ludwig S. Conelly of Cleveland and including the One Hundred and Forty-Fifth regiment of the Cleveland area and the One Hundred and Forty Eighth of northwestern Ohio;

Seventy-Fourth brigade, including the One Hundred and Forty-Seventh regiment of southern Ohio, headquarters Cincinnati, and the One Hundred and Sixty-Sixth of central Ohio, headquarters Columbus;

Second-Second field artillery brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. William L. Marlin of Cleveland, including the One Hundred and Thirty-Sixth regiment of central Ohio and the One Hundred Thirty-Fifth of northern Ohio.

Light said Negro units of the Ohio guard would be called later for training probably in Michigan.

For Home Defense

Plans for home defense units to substitute for the guardsmen have not been completed and Light said they would be governed by what federal provision is made for these forces. Tentative plans, he said, call for organizing seven infantry battalions of 2,100 men composed of draftees not subject to immediate call and inactive national guard members.

PREPARE FOR OHIO DRAFT REGISTRATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17—First steps were taken today to arrange for registering 850,000 Ohioans between 21 and 35 years of age who will be subject to conscription for a year's military training at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light ordered printing of forms and cards for the registration to be conducted Oct. 16. As soon as they are finished Secretary of State George M. Neffner will distribute them to county election boards, which will supervise registration.

Numbered registration cards will be sent to Washington, where numbers of approximately 15,000 Ohioans to be drafted will be drawn from a bowl.

MARTIN SEES GAIN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., the Republican national chairman, believes his party will gain at least 60 and possibly 75 seats in the house of representatives this fall. "The trend is definitely one way," he said at a press conference. "This would give us a comfortable majority."

This Job Needs A Genius

By The Associated Press

MANCHESTER, O., There are a lot of persons who'll regard Dr. Norborne Crowell, new president of Alfred Holbrook college, as a miracle man if he can steer that foundering ship of learning back to a prescribed course in the 19 days alloted him before classes begin.

Crowell, a 49-year-old World war veteran, was named president Sept. 3 to succeed Dr. H. E. Cunningham, ousted when Holbrook lost its accredited rating early this summer. From Des Moines, Ia., he holds degrees from Drake, Princeton and Cornell universities but he is no stranger in Ohio where he was athletic director at Mt. Union college.

A "read 'em and weep" reaction would be normal for any group of college trustees who received a work order as big as E. N. Dietrich, state director of education, handed the little Manchester teachers' training school Aug. 29.

But the trustees have announced that the fall term will open Sept. 23, and a football schedule has been arranged.

That means that Alfred Holbrook expects to satisfy Dietrich's demands in the unbelievably short space of three weeks, because without the state department's recognition as a degree-granting institution, there'd be slight hope of enrolling students.

In dropping Holbrook from the accredited standing, Dietrich said that "the college had not been able to meet any of the specific requirements laid down five years previously" and "was even slipping backward."

Here's a summary of the minimum requirements which Dietrich outlined:

1. Minimum salaries of approximately $1,500 a year for all teachers, who in no instance should carry more than 18 hours of classes a week.
2. Master's degrees with some public school experience for all professors and instructors and doctor's degrees or at least three years of graduate work for all department heads.
3. Addition of $5,000 worth of modern books and references to the library and employment of a librarian with a bachelor of library science degree.
4. $10,000 for science laboratories' equipment to bring physics, chemistry and geoglogy departments up to the bare minimum now met only by the biology department.
5. Guaranteed income of at least 4 per cent from invested endowment of not less than $250,000 to supplement student fees and exclusive of estate notes, pledges, and subscriptions for current operating expenses.
6. Improvement of heating and sanitation with toilet facilities to satisfy standards of the state division of workshops and factories.
7. Curriculum fully meeting state requirements as to courses and practice teaching.

This constitutes a sizeable job for an institution which, in Dietrich's words, "must start from the very beginning."

at home because of "individuals dependent upon them for support." Thousands more will be deferred for failure to meet physical tests.

The President called the method "fair...sure...democratic ... the will of our people."

"Our young men," he said, "will come from the factories and the fields, the cities and the towns to enroll their names on registration day.

"On that eventful day," he declared, "my generation will salute their generation.

"May we all renew within our hearts that conception of liberty and that way of life which we have all inherited.

"May we all strengthen our resolve to hold high the torch of freedom in this darkening world so that our children and their children may not be robbed of their rightful inheritance."

His proclamation went on to say that "we cannot remain indifferent to the philosophy of force now rampant in the world."

General Marshall in a radio address a few hour later added that the threat of military danger to this country "trembles on the verge of becoming a probability."

If Your Calves Won't Wean, Try This New Gadget

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The nation's inventors burst forth with a batch of new gadgets today, designed to make the world an easier place in which to live—but you'll have to use your own judgment about that.

Most "shocking" of the latest patents granted is the electric calf-weaner, aimed at making things more pleasant for Mamma Cow plus giving the calf a quicker start in life.

The brain child of Patrick Kelly of Anatone, Was., it consists of a neat little battery carrier that fits around the calf's neck and a metal contraption that rests lightly on its nose. An unobtrusive wire connects the two.

It works this way:

When the calf gets ready to go to lunch the metal contraption touches the cows, and closes an electric circuit, thus shocking the dickens out of the calf.

Kelly doesn't say what it does to the cow, but from the looks of things, it appears that she is grounded.

PAYS TO FEED HOGS WELL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, Mo. — The reason a pig enjoys eating is that he likes to be happy and healthy, says J. W. Burch of the Missouri College of Agriculture, who has made a study of the eating habits of swine. Pigs that are well fed and housed in clean surroundings usually have the vitality necessary to throw off disease that might be contracted by animals on a "maintenance diet" only, says Burch.

CHURCHILL

started at the outbreak of the war," he said.

Former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, now lord president of the council, was cheered loudly as he took his seat on the government bench for the first time since his recent operation. He smiled broadly in acknowledgement.

An outburst of cheering greeted Churchill when he entered the house.

The prime minister declared Britain can "await the decision of this prolonged air battle with sober and increasing confidence" because "serious injury" has been done to the German barges and British strength is developing "steadily by land, by sea and, above all, by air."

He called Sunday's air battles "the most brilliant and fruitful" of any fought on a large scale up to that date by fighters of RAF.

The British claimed that 189 German planes—130 of them bombers—were downed that day alone and admitted 25 losses of their own.

The prime minister said he had made "the most searching inquiries" on the figures of the record German losses for last Sunday and declared he was satisfied they "were not in any way exaggerated."

Four-fifths of Britain's air raid casualties have occurred in London, he said, contending that the attacks had been concentrated on the capital in the hope "of terrorizing its citizens into submission."

This, he said, had been done with the idea that its people would be "thrown into confusion" and "put pressure on the government to make peace."

He called the idea "silly."

Deliberate attacks on Buckingham palace and upon "our beloved king and queen" are also intended "to have an unsettling effect" upon public opinion, Churchill declared.

This was being done he said "apart from their general barbarity" in which "many hospitals, churches and public monuments have been damaged."

WILLKIE

and told an audience seated under a bright Kansas sun:

"The issue we have to decide in this campaign is whether the political rights that I am exercising today shall endure or whether we shall leave in the hands of the President of the United States, now seeking office, the power to destroy our system."

Says Nation Misled

The Republican nominee asserted Mr. Roosevelt had misrepresented the nation's military strength, had failed to bring economic recovery and had been incompetent to deal with American industry.

Titling his address "The Failure of the New Deal Theory of Government," Willkie said the President "gives lip service" to American traditions but "does not know how to preserve them."

The nominee was applauded when he added:

"He was the godfather of that unhappy conference at Munich—the conference from which the word 'appeasement,' which Mr. Wallace uses so much these days, was born—the conference from which Hitler went forth to destroy the European democracies.

"My fellow countrymen, I deny that Franklin Roosevelt—whatever his intentions—is the defender of democracy.

"First, I charge that his influence has weakened, rather than strengthened, democracy throughout the world.

"And secondly, I charge that here in America he has strained our democratic institutions to the breaking point.

Warns of Consequences

"I warn you—and I say this in dead earnest—if, because of some fine speeches about humanity, you return this administration to office, you will be serving under an American totalitarian government before the long third term is finished."

The candidate was introduced by Walter Johnson, one-time "Big Train" of baseball, a former resident of Coffeyville and now a candidate for Congress in Maryland.

"You were my boyhood hero, Walter," Willkie said at the start of his speech, and "are still my hero."

The crowd applauded when Willkie mentioned his days as a high school history teacher here. Members of a "Willkie Students' Club" stood and cheered.

Declaring that "I learned much more than I taught in Coffeyville," Willkie added: "I learned that democracy is not what we call government. Democracy is the people."

Asserting that "our government no longer feels obliged to tell us the truth," Willkie said Mr. Roosevelt has "misrepresented the strength of our military establishment."

"He has used other subterfuges. I guess we are supposed to believe that he was drafted for a third term by the free vote of the delegates to the Democratic convention.

"I guess we are also supposed to believe that his appearance at carefully photographed occasions, at public parks and dams, is not political.

"I guess we Americans are supposed to pay our taxes cheerfully so as to finance his trips to the armament factories, confident that he is not even thinking about the campaign.

"I guess we are supposed to believe that Mr. Roosevelt doesn't really want to be president."

Break in Weather Brings Britons Cause for Cheer

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Britons had good cause for cheer today as the first of the autumn storms set the bad-tempered English channel churning so fiercely as apparently to preclude an immediate Nazi to invasion by sea.

Many English people, their nerves raw from the terrific and protracted hammering of the German bombers, wondered hopefully if Hitler had delayed his invasion too long. This would seem to me, however, to be wishful thinking which really hasn't much solid foundation.

Unless this is a phenomenal year there will be more good weather before the really bad period sets in. It's true that Herr Hitler is cutting it pretty fine and that he is rather rapidly approaching the time when the gates will be closed against him—but there is no reason to believe that he has abandoned his project.

Invasion Hinges on RAF

Whether he will attempt the invasion undoubtedly depends in large degree on his success in gaining control over the hard-hitting royal air force and breaking the morale of London in the immediate future. That he very definitely has been straining every nerve to make an opening for invasion there cannot be the slightest doubt.

We have the oft-repeated word of Hitler and his lieutenants for that. More conclusive is the fact that huge fleets of barges and boats are assembled along the continental coast ready for the onslaught. Reichs Marshal Goering's flight over London Sunday night presumably was for the purpose of estimating the prospects.

To my mind Hitler still will strike if he sees a likely opening. He is perhaps the world's foremost opportunist among the big fellows and is a colossal gambler. But he also is shrewd, and it wouldn't be surprising to see the threatened invasion put over to the spring.

London's now famous anti-aircraft barrage reached unprecedented proportions last night. In this connection a reader who has been somewhat skeptical of the value of anti-aircraft gun-fire has asked me to indicate its worth.

Gun Badly Maligned

Well, it must be admitted that the poor old anti-aircraft gun hasn't established a very high reputation with the general public. However, I feel that it has been rather badly maligned.

I think perhaps the trouble is that the average layman has misjudged the primary mission of this gun. We have been asked it to live up to its name, which leads us to expect it to pick enemy aircraft out of the sky like a shotgun potting birds.

The fact is that the main mission of the anti-aircraft gun is to keep enemy bombers flying so high that they can't do precision bombing. It has been carrying out that mission right well in the defense of the British capital.

Here I will venture the suggestion that had it not been for the anti-aircraft gun defenses, London would be in ruins already.

PARALYSIS CASES GROW

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17—The state health department today reported 12 new cases of infantile paralysis, bringing the year's total to 265, with 71 still active. First incidence of the disease was listed in Henry, Fairfield and Ashland counties, with one case each. Ross reported three more; Marion and Lawrence two each, and Jackson and Scioto each added one.

OHIO MAN WITH WILLKIE AS SPECIAL ADVISOR

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 — Dr. Brooks Enemy, 39-year old educational director of the Cleveland foreign affairs council, traveled aboard the Wendell Willkie train today as the Republican presidential nominee's new foreign affairs advisor.

Dr. Enemy was appointed yesterday to replace Raymond Leslie Buell in this capacity. Buell, a former editor of Fortune magazine, was taken ill Sunday at Kansas City.

A native of Salem, O., Dr. Enemy studied international politics in Europenean capitals and taught political science at Yale university before coming to Cleveland.

been delivered against the British capital's traffic junctions and subway stations, and that the striking power of the royal air force has been blunted.

Many of London's traffic arrangements were demoralized by the "most effective" attacks on vital points within the past 24 hours, authorized sources asserted, while the high command declared British planes had not even attempted to attack German territory last night.

German circles intepreted this lack of British attacks as a sign of a weakening of British air reserves, which now must be held in readiness to counter German attacks.

Besides setting huge fires with bombs of all calibres in many parts of industrial London, authoritative sources said, the German air force has drastically interferred with production at the Armstrong arms factory in Birmingham, and forced suspension of production at the Rolls Royce plant where "5,000 motorcycles" were destroyed.

The high command said docks and industrial targets at Liverpool were laid waste with showers of bombs, and similar objectives at the Yorkshire port of Whitby were hit.

Several British merchant ships were hit by a shelling of the Dover area yesterday, the high command said.

Informed sources described the raids on London yesterday and last night as the heaviest of the war, and the accompanying air battles with hugh concentrations of British fighter craft as perhaps the greatest of the war.

KNOX SEES ENGLAND'S CHANCES IMPROVING

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 17 — Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox gives England a better than even chance to defeat Germany—feels indeed, he says, "quite cheerful about it."

The secretary, who arrived here by navy plane yesterday from Honolulu where he inspected naval facilities and spent five days at sea with the fleet, told newsmen he believed the chance for a successful invasion of Britain was growing weaker every day.

The secretary said the recent fleet maneuvers off Hawaii demonstrated that the fleet "is the best fleet in the world." He described the vessels as in "excellent condition" and the navy's air arm as "very capable."

U. S. GOING FASCIST, NORMAN THOMAS SAYS

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17 — Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, says he fears "we're on our way to fascism, and when America moves we move fast."

Conscription, he assented in an address last night, is the "very essence of totalitarianism" and a measure which "has not been proved necessary. * * *

"If America goes fascist, we'll have another name for it. We may steal the song but we'll have a good old American name for it."

Ohio Lawmakers See Success for Bill To Restrict Sale of Prison Goods

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17—Important-to-Ohio legislation to prevent sale and transportation of prison-made goods in interstate commerce is expected to be in the hands of President Roosevelt shortly.

In the midst of action on precedent-shattering defense measures, the house found time last week to approve by a voice vote a conference report on the prison goods bill. Proponents intend to press for prompt senate concurrence.

Ohioans said they were confident that the legislation had administration indorsement.

Final house action came after lively debate over a provision to exempt farm machinery and other items produced in the Buckeye state. Conferees had eliminated the provision and a number of house members wanted it restored.

Reps. John Vorys of Columbus and Robert Jones of Lima declared that approval of the conference report was a victory for Ohio farmers and labor. Similar sentiments were expressed by Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester.

"In Ohio," Jones told the house, "rejection of this conference report would be a blow to free labor as against prison labor and a blow to the farmer who would have to pay for relief of the unemployed displaced by prison labor.

"In addition, the farmers pay a higher price for the farm implements caused by the slowing down of production of private plants whose markets are displaced by prison-made goods."

Prison labor, he added, "can not be fair competition for private labor One can not say 'I am a friend of free labor,' and then say 'I am against this conference report so that a prison can make these particular things.' We must either protect free labor or we are not being true to that ideal of competition."

The rejected provision was proposed by Minnesotans who joined in the laughter when Vorys remarked that "this is an example of the famous 'Minnesota shift.'"

Vorys declared that many farm implement plants had lost considerable business as a result of competition by prison made goods.

"I know of an instance of a small farm-implement factory in Ohio," he said, "that employs 400 men, that has lost half of its business in two western states because of Minnesota prison labor competition

"Let us save the private free market for private free labor and not condemn free Americans to the 'idle house'"

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton thinks the Democratic presidential campaign will be remembered for its "firsts"

"This will be the first time any man ever asked the people to elect him to the presidency for a third successive term," said Jenkins in a house record statement

"This will be the first time that any candidate dictated his own nomination, although he claimed he did not want it.

"This will be the first time a presidential nominee said he would refuse to accept the nomination which he had gotten for himself unless the convention would nominate his individual choice for vice president.

"This was the first time that the wife of a sitting president addressed the convention in her husband's interest.

"And this is the first time in the history of the nation that the people openly expressed fear that if the third term president is elected they may never have another presidential election."

MORROW CO. FAIR BOARD WILL ELECT

New Members To Be Named Oct. 15.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 17—Seven Morrow county fair board members will be elected when the annual meeting of the Morrow County Agrictulral society is held at the courthouse here Tuesday, Oct 15, O. E. Smith, secretary of the board, announced today

Members whose terms expire this year are Gar Smith of Congress township, D. B. Sipe of Gilead township, F. G. Porter of Bennington township, C. N. Dildine of Westfield and W. B. Chilcote of Harmony township.

Successors will also be elected to those appointed to fill vacanies caused by resignations in the last year.

Those serving by appointment are Milton McKee of South Bloomfield and J. W. Burkett of Cardington township. McKee succeeded his father, George McKee, who resigned, and Burkhart succeeded H S Kirkpatrick who resigned when he moved from Cardington to Mt. Gilead.

The ninetieth annual Morrow county fair will open here next week on Wednesday for four days The secretary of the board has announced that there will be more entertainment features on the program this year than at any time in the past. Entries for livestock and other exhibits are expected to be more numerous than last year.

A University of Arizona scientist after more than two years of work has estimated that there are only about one-seventh as many big horn sheep in that state as 10 years ago.

DO THE DEAD RETURN?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," tells of astonishing experiences in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here he lived among the lamas, mystic priests of the temple. "In your previous lifetime," a very old lama told him, "you lived here, a lama in this temple. You and I were boys together. I lived on, but you died in youth, and were reborn in England. I have been expecting your return."

The young Englishman was amazed as he looked around the temple where he was believed to have lived and died. It seemed uncannily familiar, he appeared to know every nook and corner of it, yet—at least in this lifetime—he had never been there before. And mysterious was the set of circumstances that had brought him Could it be a case of reincarnation, that strange belief of the East that souls return to earth again and again, living many lifetimes?

Because of their belief that he had formerly been a lama in the temple, the lamas welcomed the young man with open arms and taught him rare mysteries and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which have enabled many to perform amazing feats. He says that the system often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, can be used to achieve brilliant business and professional success as well as great happiness. The young man himself later became a noted explorer and geographer, a successful publisher of maps and atlases of the Far East, used throughout the world.

"There is in all men a sleeping giant of mind-power," he says. "When awakened, it can make man capable of surprising feats, from the prolonging of youth to success in many other worthy endeavors" The system is said by many to promote improvement in health; others tell of increased bodily strength, courage and poise

"The time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world" declares the author, and offers to send his amazing 9000-word treatise—which reveals many startling results—to sincere readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd, Dept. 126 M, Los Angeles, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of free treatises have been printed. (Adv.)

"Well, I declare!"

"Well, I declare!"..."Mrs. Foster has married again" "The Joneses have another baby"..."The Common Council has raised the tax rate"..."The Clark boy has been sent to the reformatory"..."The Methodist Church has a new minister"..."There's going to be a masquerade at the Country Club next Saturday"... "The Bon Ton is selling some of those new fur hats" "The Taylor girl is engaged at last."

It's not only the news of foreign events and national affairs, of battle fronts and political struggles, that makes the newspaper so vital a force in people's lives. It's the news of happenings close at home, too. It's the news of what's going on in the town we live in, among the people we know...the intimate, personal things.

And only in the local newspaper can we satisfy our craving for the local news. For the newspaper first of all reflects the life of the community it serves...and each newspaper, like each community, has characteristics that distinguish it from others.

It's not surprising, in view of the eagerness with which people turn to their local newspapers every day, that advertisers who have anything to sell to any community...or group of communities or all communities...have found newspaper advertising so productive and so economical.

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 17—Miss Dorothy Ritterspach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ritterspach, and David Clark Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Hale, both of Upper Sandusky, were married Saturday at the First Lutheran church. Prior to the ceremony, a half hour program of organ music was played by Mrs. E. Bernard Fritiche and the wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Virginia Kuenzli.

The single ring service was read by Rev. J. H. Weissrock, pastor of the church. Miss Martha Hartle was bridemaid.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Paul Cook of New Bremen, was the best man for Mr. Hale. Thomas Ritterspach, brother of the bride, and Elmore Clark, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers. Following the ceremony a wedding was served at the Evergreens restaurant. Later the couple left for Cleveland where they will make their home after Oct. 1.

In a late summer wedding, Miss Martha Mae Phelps, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phelps of Richland township and Roscoe K. Kuenzli, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kuenzli of Mifflin township, were married at the Wharton Church of God Sunday. Rev. Gaylord Wilkins, pastor of the church, officiated for the single ring service.

Mrs. Arden Kieffer, twin sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Arthur Phelps Jr., brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. The couple will reside with the bride's parents.

Epworth Defeats Greenwood, 4-0, to Win Spot in Finals of City Series

Whitcum Hurls Two-Hitter Again; Semi-Final Game Wednesday.

EPWORTH, Sunday School No. 1 league champion, won its way to the finals of the "Little World Series" by blanking Greenwood, Sunday School No. 2 pennant winners, 4-0, last night at Lincoln park behind the two-hit pitching of Maurice "Maury" Whitcum. It was the second two-hitter of the series in as many games played for the husky right-hander and his fourteenth win of the season.

The Greenies' setback makes it necessary for them to play Keytown Wednesday night to determine the finalist who opposes Epworth Friday night. Both Keytown and Greenwood have won and lost one game in the series. The loser of Wednesday's tilt will be eliminated from the series.

The winning Epworths were powerful at the plate but poor defensively and it was only the tight pitching of Whitcum that kept Greenwood from scoring. Twice the losers had second and third bases occupied and once the bases loaded only to have the Epworth speedballer bear down and either set them down on strikes or force them to hit into easy outs.

Walters Gives 8 Hits

Woodrow "Woody" Walters, the fireball hurler who turned in a two-hit performance against Keytown in his team's first game of the series, was "easy" for the hard hitting Epworth outfit as they touched him for eight solid blows, including two for extra bases.

Neither pitcher was as effective in striking out opposing batters as they were in their first game. Whitcum fanned three last night whereas in the first game with Marion Steam Shovel he sent six down swinging and Walters who whiffed 11 in the Keytown game retired only five on strikes last night.

Epworth combined two hits and an error to score a run in the first inning when shortstop Bill Evans, lead-off man, hit an easy grounder to Fetter at first, which the latter booted into the outfield, and Evans continued to second. Billy Hero, flashy second baseman, hit a hard drive to Cook in deep short. The Greenwood shortstop pegged the ball to third too late to catch Evans and Hero took second on the play, putting both runners in scoring position. Roy Everly, hard hitting first baseman, lined a single through first, scoring Evans and advancing Hero to third. Every went on to second on the play and two runners were again in scoring position. Roseberry was out, third to first and Whitcum looked at a third strike to end the inning.

Fetter Kills Threat

Fetter, Greenwood first baseman, spoiled Epworth's chances of scoring in the second, for with two Epworth runners on base, the speedy first baseman made a spectacular catch of Ed Mautz's foul near the fence across from first base.

Greenwood came closer to scoring in the third than at any other time during the game. Cook, the first man to face Whitcum, hit a short bunt down the first base line and when Charles Reid, catcher, threw to first the ball hit Cook on the back and Cook went on to third on the scramble for the ball. Fetter lined a double to Darrel Roseberry in center who unleashed a powerful and accurate heave that caught Cook coming home. Marshall walked, Roseberry popped to the catcher and Anderson received a free ticket to first, filling the sacks. Greenwood's hopes crumbled as Billy Hero left his place at the keystone sack to catch Donaugh's fly ball back of first.

Two runs were chased across the plate in the fifth by the winners. Bob Reid singled and went to second on Ed Mautz's sacrifice, Hero singled through short, scoring Reid and then went to second from where he scored on Roy Everly's double down the third base line.

Hero Is Hero

Greenwood's half of the fifth was only eventful when Hero robbed Max Roseberry's chances of a hit by leaping high off the ground to pull down his hard hit drive.

George Hedge scored Epworth's final run when he reached first on a fielder's choice and was brought in on Charles Reid's double.

Billy Reid, in addition to his big evening in the field, was, together with Roy Everly, the powerhouse at the plate. Both slammed out two hits apiece. Anderson and Fetter accounted for Greenwood's only safeties off of Whitcum.

Scores by innings and batteries follow:

Epworth 100 021 0—4 8 4
Greenwood 000 000 0—0 2 2

Whitcum and C. Reid; Walters and Donaugh.

Yanks Take Dive, Connie Takes Bow for His Forecast

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17 — Venerable Connie Mack, first baseball manager to predict this year's nose dive for the New York Yankees, took a bow today, although—

"The Yankees' late rush made me feel a little worried about my spring prediction that they would finish third," the Philadelphia Athletics' pilot admitted.

A look at the American league standing showed the leading Cleveland Indians a half-game to the front of the Detroit Tigers, four ahead of the Bombers and and four and a half better than Chicago.

"But it appears now," Mack beamed as his team made ready for the series finale against the Indians, "as if the White Sox have a chance to beat them out."

Mack didn't say last spring who would beat the Yankees, and he still has no flat prediction, except this:

"Cleveland and Detroit have six more games to play with each other. The team that wins most of them should take the pennant."

The Indians, who shook off a nearly-disastrous slump to capture six of their last eight starts, appear as if they may fit Mr. Mack's specifications.

Cleveland pitchers are breezing along like a 12-cylinder automobile on a newly-paved highway and the war clubs are pulled from the wigwam for a fat inning every now and then.

Lima Evens Up Series

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 17—Lima's Pandas, Ohio State league pennant winners, turned on the power last night in beating Findlay, 9 to 2, to square the final playoff series at one game each.

The Pandas, working behind the seven hit pitching of Eddie Evans, banged out 14 hits including three homers. Shortstop Bucky Kozak socked two of the round trippers and second baseman Clair Crum added the third.

The third game of the series will be played in Lima tonight.

Meet Marion's Tennis Champions of 1940 Season

Title holders in Marion county's tennis tournament for the 1940 season at the Y. M. C. A. courts in Vernon Heights are pictured above. At the left is Gene Roberts of 576 Girard avenue, winner of the junior singles title. Next to him is Ralph E. Carhart of 350 Franklin street, co-holder of the men's doubles title. Next is Thomas Clark Jr. of Mt. Vernon avenue, men's singles champion, and beside him is Paul Hoffman of 247 Elm street, co-holder with Carhart of the doubles title. At the right is Miss Ruth Starr of 354 Lafayette street, women's single crown winner.

With crowning of its 1940 champions, Marion has reached the climax of probably its biggest tennis season in history—and set the stage for another successful season next summer.

Almost overnight, the game has become one of the city's leading sports — but it didn't just happen.

Back of the spectaular increase in interest is a lot of hard work and money spent on making good courts available to the general public. Chief among these new courts are the three at the Y. M. C. A. grounds in Vernon Heights and the single courts at Lincoln and McKinley parks.

In addition, the Marion Country club added two courts which saw considerable play this summer. Others which were kept busy were the three at the Marion Steam Shovel grounds on Uncapher avenue and a private court on the East Side.

At the Y. M. C. A. courts it is estimated some 150 persons, ranging in age from 8 to 70, played regularly. Under the supervision of Bob Hicks, boys' work secretary at the Y, the courts operated from 9 a. m. to dark on week days and from 1 p. m. to dark on Sundays.

Classes were offered for beginners from 8 to 12 years old, for boys from 12 to high school age and for men and the same age ranges for women. Mr. Hicks estimates 50 were given instruction.

Today many youngsters, who probably otherwise would never have had a chance to play, have a healthy interest in tennis, which promises for increased activity in the future. Another impetus for next season is the fact that some of the titles may change hands if new talent continues to develop at the pace set during this season.

The public courts at McKinley and Lincoln parks, erected by the city park board headed by W. Paul Cass, were busy all day long, and were open to all.

MacKenzie Roughs His Way To Mat Victory Over Knutson

Weight, stamina and highly questionable ring ethics proved decisive factors last night as Gordon Mac Kenzie of Milwaukee, Wis., annihilated Gil Knutson, the clever Canadian Swede, in the featured wrestling match at the Marion Steam Shovel gym.

Outweighing the big Swede 223 to 210, Mac Kenzie took every possible advantage of his extra poundage, crumpling his foe to the mat and then resorting to knuckle punches and illegal holds as the crowd roared its disapproval of Referee Jimmy Lott's leniency.

Apparently determined to take his second successive victory as quickly as possible, Mac Kenzie began rushing Knutson in the opening minute of the match and had a decisive advantage over Knutson throughout the fight. The Swede fought back hard, whenever he could break away from the Scotchman's choking holds and on these rare occasions Mac Kenzie showed that as far as illegal holds were concerned he was much better at dishing them out than taking them.

23-Minute Round

Surprisingly though, Knutson held on for 23 minutes before the first fall. The rest of the fight was short, the Swede lasting only two minutes before the second and final fall.

As the first round opened Mac Kenzie came out fast with body slams, generously interspersed with slugging. Knutson finally got the upper hand for a moment and applied a painful stepover toe hold but Mac Kenzie retaliated by slamming the Swede against the ropes and getting a hammerlock.

It seemed for a minute that Knutson was through, five minutes into the first round, but Knutson staged one of his rare rallies and body-slammed Mac Kenzie around the ring into the ropes. Dazed, Mac Kenzie resorted to strangling headlocks and chinlocks that left Knutson choking and gasping for breath. At this point the strongly pro-Swedish fans became so rebellious against Referee Lott's gentle management of the fight that Lott held Mac Kenzie off until Knutson could get to his feet and regain his breath.

Knutson Retaliates

Knutson retaliated with an effective chin scissors but the Scotchman pulled his rival down with a hair-hold that brought the irate fans to their feet. Tieing Knutson up in pretzel form, Mac Kenzie went to work with annihilating kidney punches and knuckle punches above the heart until the referee finally pulled him away. Knutson came back with a strangling chin hold but Mac Kenzie, resorting to hair-pulling again, regained the advantage and finished Knutson off with a pair of crushing body slams against the rope and two more body slams into the mat.

It was a miracle that the badly-shaken Swede was able to come back from the showers, but he came. However, he couldn't quite get out of his corner when the round opened and Mac Kenzie quickly went to work on the Swede's injured back. Rapidly wearing down his opponent with chinlocks and knuckle punches, Mac Kenzie finally felled him for good with a crab hold.

Semi-Final

In the semi-final match, Bob Montgomery of Hot Springs, Ark., battled it out to a draw with scrappy Jimmy Heffner of Sherman, Tex. Montgomery got the first fall in 23 minutes with a series of hammer locks, surfboards and chinlocks. The second fall went to Heffner in 20 minutes when he broke away from a crushing headlock and quickly cradled Montgomery.

Lott, who hails from the University of Alabama, annihilated Ned Taylor of Louisville, Ky., in the prelim. The match went 11 minutes, Lott holding the advantage all the way with punishing headlocks and body slams.

Two-Team Battle for Flag Looms As Yanks Lose.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The scrambled American league pennant struggle may go to the last day of the season before it's settled, so today's best advice for bewildered fans is to save their shouting until the shooting is over.

Cleveland divided a double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, winning the first 8-3 and losing the second 3-2. This was good enough to hold the lead, but the Detroit Tigers gnawed the margin down to half a game by routing the Washington Senators 9-2.

Two-Team Finish

The case for a two-team finish comes from the crushing setbacks sustained by the third-place New York Yankees and fourth-place Chicago White Sox, leaving this standing:

Club	W	L	Pct.	GB	TP
Cleveland	82	60	.577		12
Detroit	81	60	.574	½	13
New York	77	63	.550	4	14
Chicago	78	65	.454	4½	11

(GB means games behind leader. TP means games to play).

The only club that has cracked so far is the Yankees, who were shattered 16-4 by the St. Louis Browns yesterday. This was the sixth loss in seven games for the champs and the largest score against them this year.

The White Sox's 6-2 defeat by Boston was their first loss in nine games and could be charged jointly to the five-hit pitching of Jack Wilson and five errors made by Chicago.

The Indians produced a seven-run frame yesterday for Mel Harder, who disposed of the first 20 men in order and coasted through to an 8 to 3 victory in the opening half of a wash day bargain bill. Lou Boudreau's two-run double and Ray Mack's four-run homer were the loud noises.

Even Harry Eisenstat, who has had few chances this season because a leg injury kept him on the sidelines more than a month, did well when pressed into service as a starting pitcher in the afterpiece.

Freak Doubles Win

Eisenstat was touched for seven hits, two of them freak doubles producing the deciding tally in the ninth inning, as he lost a 3 to 2 duel to Johnny Babich, ace of Mack's somewhat less than sensational casting corps.

The Cincinnati Reds almost sewed the final stitches in another National league pennant by beating Brooklyn 4-3 in 10 innings to drop the Dodgers 10 games behind the pace.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the New York Giants 7-6 in a home run battle, getting three circuit blows to two that Mel Ott hit for the Terrible Terrymen, who ran their losing streak to eight games.

The St. Louis Cardinals preserved a slim hold on third place by dividing two games with the Phillies. After losing the first 3-2 to old Si Johnson's five-hit hurling they captured the second 7-1.

KENTON, MT. GILEAD MEN ON O. N. U. GRID SQUAD

Back again as one of the mainstays of Ohio Northern university's gridiron team is George Keel of Kenton, veteran quarterback. He is one of nine lettermen on the Polar Bear squad.

Among promising sophomores is Francis Kubbs of Mt. Gilead, backfield recruit who tips the scales at 160.

Northern will open its season Sept. 27 at Findlay. Last year it won five and lost three.

Red Cross Activities Listed

Relief work, nutrition and other services of the Marion County Red Cross chapter were discussed Monday at the monthly luncheon meeting of the board at Hotel Harding.

As soon as children in the parocial and public schools can be weighed to determine those in need of milk and wafers the nutrition committee will start providing the lunch, Mrs. Francis Hurst, chairman, told the board.

Opening of a new free class in home hygiene and care of the sick Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the Y. M. C. A. was reported by the chairman, Mrs. J. C. Ackerman. Mrs. Urton Anderson, Red Cross nurse, will be instructor.

Something of the work that will be done in the coming months to meet the chapter's quota of clothing for French, Belgian and Finnish war refugees was presented by the volunteer chairman, Mrs. Paul Knauss. She reported that on Aug. 26 the chapter's fourth quota was shipped abroad, consisting of 20 girls' dresses, 10 women's dresses, 33 children's sweaters, 15 women's sweaters, 17 men's sweaters, 20 layettes and three mufflers.

New Quota

Deadline for filling the fifth quota is Dec. 15, Mrs. Knauss reported. She said the following had been made responsible for the various items: Mrs. Carl LaMarche, 35 women's dresses; Mrs. Francis Huber, 75 women's skirts; Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, 175 girls' dresses; Mrs. George Turner, 125 girls' skirts; Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, 125 layettes; Mrs. James R. Smith, 60 boys' shirts; Mrs. E. G. Siefert, chairman, Mrs. A. A. Starner, Mrs. Rex Kilburn, Mrs. John M. Gardner and Mrs. J. E. Scandling, 150 children's sweaters, 50 women's sweaters and 25 men's sweaters. In addition the chapter has been asked to make 60 pairs of hospital pajamas and 60 robes for convalescents, and has promised 10 mufflers, 10 pairs of men's socks and two afghans.

Any woman and young woman in Marion city and county may help with the work, Mrs. Knauss explained to the board. Those wishing to work should get in touch with the chapter office, one of the above-named women or Mrs. John T. McNamara of Courtland avenue, who is chairman of sewing and cutting. All materials will be furnished.

Mrs. Clara Campbell and Mrs. M. E. Richmond have been appointed a committee to make Red Cross flags for the coming roll call, the volunteer chairman reported.

First Aid Report

Dr. F. L. Thomas, chairman of first aid, told the board that last month 48 persons completed the standard first aid courses in classes taught by John Sekinger, Charles Erow, A. D. Boyd and George Fetter. The following final report of the annual free swimming classes sponsored at Crystal Lake park by the chapter was made by Dr. Frederick Rea, chairman of swimming and life saving: 162 persons learned to swim; 30 passed beginner's tests, six passed swimmers' test; five intermediate; four junior life savers; 13 senior life savers; eight, advanced swimmers. Seven persons qualified as instructors at the special school conducted by George Costello, field worker from Washington, D. C. At the Girl Scout camp the Red Cross chapter cooperated by furnishing instructors and the following results were reported: 33 girls passed beginners' tests, 13 the intermediate, four the swimmers' and one the junior life saving test.

Miss Lillian Plack, executive secretary, reported that in July and August she conducted 407 office interviews, made 23 visits to homes, gave information to 297 persons, and gave Red Cross services to 74 persons.

Bowling

Honors Divided as Ladies' All Star and Home League Teams See Action.

Honors were well divided as the Ladies' All Star and Home leagues bowled last night at Marion Recreation Center.

In the Ladies' loop, Blakes Florist had 1,894 for the high three-game total and Colonel's Gulf Station led for single games with 666, D. Maskill had the high individual total for three games, 452, and high single game of 151.

Vess Beverages had the high team scores in the Home league, 2,095 and 742. Radcliffe of the Omar squad had a 199 single game for honors in that department and C. Jerew of Beuhler's rolled a 496 series.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS PLAN FOR MEETINGS

Will Hold Sessions Every Monday Till Election.

Plans to hold meetings every Monday night from now until the Nov. 5 election were made last night when the Marion County Young Republican club met at party headquarters. Usually the group meets on alternate Mondays.

French Crow, county chairman, spoke on the campaign last night and a rehearsal was held by the glee club. It was decided to seek to bring guest speakers to some of the meetings in the near future.

Calvin Oborn, president, was in charge last night.

YUGOSLAV COUNT SHOT

ZAGREB, YUGOSLAVIA, Sept. 17—Count Bombelec, close friend and adviser of the late King Alexander of Yugoslavia, was wounded today when three groups of men fired at his automobile. The count has not been active in politics recently.

AUTO RACES SCHEDULED IN MAROIN OCTOBER 6

Owen B. Granger of Albion, Mich., was in Marion today to arrange for automobile races to be held at the fairgrounds Oct. 6 at 2:30.

Mr. Granger said he expects some 50 drivers to compete in six events, including a 30-lap final for the championship.

Among early entries listed by Mr. Granger are Albert Booker, Harry Robtoy and Eddy Zalucki, all of Detroit, and Mike Solay of South Bend, Ind.

Mr. Granger himself raced here in 1920. The last dirt track races in Marion were in 1938.

MOTION PICTURES SHOWN AT LIONS CLUB MEETING

Motion pictures of a trip through western states were shown at a luncheon meeting of the Marion Lions club at Hotel Harding yesterday by A. C. Hunter, Mansfield insurance agent and amateur photographer.

The pictures were in color.

Plans for an attendance contest to continue for six weeks were announced and teams were named. Captains appointed are H. L. Arbogast, Kenneth Bolinger, Philip Boyd, Walter Kraft, Harry Lazear, Roger W. Loveless, R. E. Parish and Roy Pou.

Guests were Wesley Neidhart, Dr. Jay L. Plymale and Carl Watrous.

ASHLEY RESIDENT'S ARM CRUSHED AT SAND PLANT

ASHLEY, Sept. 17—Frank Wright of Ashley was injured this morning when one of his arms was crushed in machinery at the Walter Penry sand plant near Delaware where he is employed.

Mr. Wright was taken to Jane M. Case hospital in Delaware where attendants reported the arm was badly mangled. X-rays were to be taken this afternoon to determine whether amputation would be necessary, they said.

ODD FELLOWS MEET

Final arrangements for a homecoming dinner tonight for members of Mizpah Encampment No. 50, I. O. O. F. and former members of the group were made at a meeting last night of Kosciusko Lodge No. 58, I. O. O. F. Tonight's activities will start with a dinner at 6:30 served by the Rebekah lodges. The first degree was conferred last night and plans made to confer the second degree Monday night and again in two weeks.

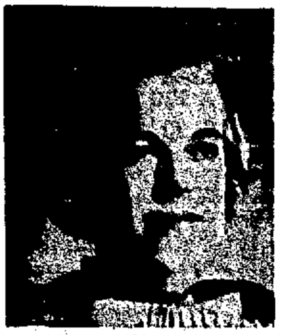
TO OPEN REVIVAL

MISS ALMA HODGSON



MISS BLANCHE NOVAK

Revival services will begin tonight at the Assembly of God church at Davids and Herman streets with Miss Alma Hodgson, Rock Island, Ill., evangelist, in charge. Miss Hodgson will be assisted by Miss Blanche Novak, also of Rock Island. Services will be held each night at 7:30 with Miss Hodgson preaching. Both Miss Hodgson and Miss Novak will present musical selections at each service. Mrs. G. C. West and Miss Nola West, pastors of the church, have invited the public.

WIVES OF FACULTY AT HARDING HIGH HONORED

Wives of faculty members of Harding High school gave a tea Monday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock at Ringer's Inn on the Prospect road for the women of the faculty. The affair especially honored the new teachers and Mrs. E. E. Holt, wife of the superintendent, and Mrs. O. H. P. Snyder, wife of the principal. Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. Homer E. Huffman presided at the serving table, which was centered with fall flowers. Thirty-six were present including Miss Etta Jacoby who resigned in the spring after 20 years as librarian at the school.

CLASS MEETING

Emma Berger Bible class of Calvary Evangelical Sunday school will hold a "back to school days" class meeting Thursday evening with Mrs. Irene Steele at the S. G. Haldeman home at 368 Girard avenue.

Plenty of Laughs in Feature Now on Palace Screen

As bright a comedy as has come this way in many moons is "Pride and Prejudice," at the Palace tonight, Thursday and Friday. Jane Austin's romantic novel of the trials of a fluttery mother with five daughters to marry off in a day when to have a spinster daughter was the nightmare of motherhood, has been brought to the screen with emphasis on comedy.

Chuckles come fast as Mary Boland, in the role of mother, contrives to marry off her daughters, Greer Garson, Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford, Marsha Hunt and Heather Angel. Miss Boland may overplay her role a bit, but she hits the right note and sustains her characterization. Miss Garson is beautiful and effective as the eldest daughter, a bit independent for a girl of the period of the story. Opposite her is Laurence Olivier as a wealthy bachelor whose pride in family prejudices her against him from their first meeting. He can't stand her provincial family. They carry on an exciting and quarrelsome love affair.

Settings and eye-filling costumes attain the quaint charm of the Austin novel, but don't let the fact that it's a costume picture keep you away from some of the best laughs of the year. Edmund Gwenn is excellent as the father of the bevy of girls and Edna May Oliver is a riot as the titled matriarch, with Melville Cooper running a close second as her stuffy librarian with Don Juan ambitions. Also contributing to the general entertainment are Bruce Lester as the suitor of Miss O'Sullivan, Frieda Inescort as his snobbish sister, Edward Ashley as the chap who marries Miss Rutherford and Karen Morley as the girl who marries Cooper.—H. STEELS LEAD STOCKS TODAY

Market Gains Range from Fraction to Around a Point.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—Steels today paced the stock market on another modest advance. Gains ranged from fractions to around a point near the fourth hour.

War tension, as a market factor, appeared to have lessened somewhat. Growning home defense spending, it was suggested, continued as the main speculative prop.

Securities at London were steady. Bonds exhibited selective improvement, as did major commodities.

Stocks with forward inclinations included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, Boeing, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Bullish forces derived satisfaction from announcements of additional heavy war department orders for aiplanes, engines and other military equipment.

ACCUSED IN DEATH

Mary E. B. Jones, 44, a social registerite, is charged with homicide at Hastings-On-Hudson, N. Y., following the death of her friend of 25 years, Lottie W. Booth, 50, a lawyer, with whom she lived. Police found Miss Booth beaten to death in the somber mansion in which the two had lived for 10 years.

Jamaica has limited the importation of medicinal products to those having containers showing their formulas or compositions in both English and French.

WHEAT STRONGER AS STOCKS ADVANCE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 — Wheat futures developed a firm undertone today in sympathy with the buoyant tendencies of the stock market. Led by the nearby delivery, wheat advanced as much as ⅝ cent to 76¼, and closed at the peak.

Corn was under pressure most of the session. There was some selling of September corn by a broker who frequently acts for elevator interests. Continued favorable weather conditions for the new crop also influenced the easiness of the market.

Wheat closed ⅛-⅝ cents higher than Monday's final quotations, Sept. 76¼, Dec. 77⅛-77; corn was ⅛-⅝ cents down, Sept. 62½-⅝, Dec. 55⅝-⅝, and oats were ⅛ cent up.

FORMER CRESTLINE MAN'S TRIAL SCHEDULED TODAY

Alpha Woessner Facing Charge of Murder.

Alpha (Red) Woessner, 33-year-old native of Crestline, was to go on trial today at Fremont on a second degree murder charge in the death of Walter Snyder, 22, sugar refinery worker, last Oct. 31.

Woessner's counsel has filed notice of an alibi defense, alleging he left his boarding house at 8:30 the night of the slaying and until 9:30 was at a filling station, from where he returned home to spend the remainder of the night.

Principal evidence for the state is said to be Woessner's statement that he struck Snyder and left him for dead after a fight near a Fremont saloon.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACING STARTS AT DELAWARE

Grand Circuit racing returned to Ohio today as a four-day meeting got under way at the Delaware county fairgrounds.

Racing, in connection with the annual county fair, was to start at 1:30. Today's program includes first division trot, fourth division pace two-year-old and 2:24 pace.

HEART DESIGN

Wearing her heart not on her sleeve but in the so-shaped bodice, this miss shows a "peekaboo" fashion that uses black chiffon for the more revealing portions. Sophie Gimbel designed it.

Play with Baby

The baby should have regular exercises just as much or more so than an adult. The time to begin baby's systematic exercise is about the end of the third month when the eyes have developed so that he can begin to perceive objects.

As with adult's exercises, psychology holds that the best form of exercise for the baby is that which centers the interest on something else but the exercise—some sort of game.

A light inflated ball is the toy that will for the longest space of time give the baby the most exercise. He is no different from the adult in that either—a ball is the basis of all games, and red is the color—still similar to sound adult custom. Red in movement will fascinate any human being and baby is no exception. "A red ball bouncing in bed will let the mother get ahead" (with her house work). That's a little weak as an effort to contribute to nursery rhymes, but the best I can do this morning.

For Stretching

A red balloon tied to the baby's wrist will keep its interest up in the jerks and swings of the arms and legs and the body stretching that are the best form of baby's exercises.

The football game, as suggested by L. E. Eubank in HEALTH CULTURE, is a good one. This can be begun when the other exercises have strengthened the baby so that he can make a reasonably successful attempt to sit up. Tie a string between two chairs put back to back, and from the middle suspend a ball. Put the baby on his blankets between the chairs and set the ball to swinging. When the baby finds out that he can give that thing a kick, the game begins. The future fullback may get so interested in this game that mother will have to stop him before it becomes too exhausting.

SHIRRED AFTERNOON DRESS

PATTERN 4579

There's a "lady of quality" air about Pattern 4579. Anne Adams has let its sapling-slim lines conform to the silhouette news for fall and winter. The skirt is "straight-and-narrow," with just enough fullness at the center front for perfect walking ease. The neckline is a striking feature, cut to a low, slim V in front and curving high to form a collar effect band in back. Those optional pockets are filled with fashion interest. They are decoratively shirred on top and are placed at a new "hand-angle." Shirring trims the shoulders; the sleeves are long or short. Choose silk jersey satin or crepe to make this attractive dress.

Pattern 4579 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Three cheers for the Anne Adams Fall and Winter Pattern Book—just off the press! It's right in key with the American spirit of freedom and individuality.
